BRITISH TURN NAZI ATTACK BACK IN EGYPT

Assault Continued on Rommel's Supply Lines; 9 Planes Destroyed.

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Oct. 29—Four more Messerschmitt-109 fighters have been shot down by United States fighters in continuing large-scale operations against the enemy over the Egyptian battle line, a United States communique announced today.

The enemy planes were knocked out in dog fights, the war bulletin said, although the German fliers tried to avoid combat with the United States airmen throughout yesterday, during which repeated attacks were carried out against axis ground and aerial targets.

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Oct. 29—British headquarters announced today that the Eighth army had beaten off Nazi counterattack in the Egyptian desert and reported continued air attacks on enemy supply lines and bases, including Crete.

Further losses were reported inflicted on Field Marshal Rommel's forces in a series of minor engagements yesterday.

"The fighting continues," the bulletin said tersely, but gave no further details.

The Axis air force was said to have remained on the defensive throughout yesterday as allied planes smashed at enemy landing fields and forward positions.

Junkers Shot Down

Allied night fighters also carried out protective patrols over the front and shot down one Junkers 88, headquarters said.

Nine enemy fighters in all were reported destroyed during the day in the Mediterranean theater.

The attack on Crete, carried out by night, was said to have set fires at an enemy airdrome. Allied torpedo-carrying aircraft were credited with sinking a large enemy tanker bound for North Africa last night.

Enemy activity over Malta was ineffective and reduced in scale, the bulletin said.

From the tone of the communique it seemed evident that the army of the Nile, bent on inflicting the maximum possible damage to the enemy at a minimum cost, was maintaining the pressure but determined pace of limited offensive while subjecting Rommel's forces to a ceaseless aerial and artillery bombardment.

Take Job In Stride

Latest advices from the front indicated that Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's desert-wise troops were going methodically about the business of widening gaps in the enemy defenses and whittling down the enemy's strength in preparation for the main test to come.

There were no spectacular advances but it was reported there were indications that Montgomery's systematic tactics were achieving results.

These tactics obviously were a reemphification of the thesis which the British have set forth repeatedly in the past—that the conquest of territory means little in the desert and that the prime objective is not to push the enemy back but to destroy him.

It appeared, too, that Montgomery was determined not to repeat the mistake which the Germans made last June when they pushed ahead too rapidly and ran into a trap.

Losses so far both Montgomery and Rommel apparently have been able to their tank strength sparingly.

COMPULSORY WORK PLAN SIDETRACKED

Mobilization Plan Believed Deferred Indefinitely.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 — The administration was reported reliably today to have decided to shelve indefinitely proposals for compulsory mobilization of manpower.

Congressional leaders, who had been invited shortly after next Tuesday's elections to receive a report from which legislation could be drawn to fit the nation's workers into the wartime production machine, were said to have been informed that no White House recommendation would be forthcoming for some time.

In the absence of such a recommendation, sponsors conceded privately it would be next to impossible to obtain action on a

WAGE ORDER EFFECTIVE SOON

Regulation To Be Put in Operation in Ten or Fifteen Days.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Decentralized administrative machinery to regulate all wages and most salaries up to $5,000 will be operating in 10 to 15 days.

The war labor board announced it had arranged in cooperation with Secretary Perkins of the labor department to use the wage-hour division field offices to help administer the responsibilities given the board under the President's executive order of Oct. 3 and by James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization.

It will be the treasury's task to control payments in the lower-salaries professional and executive brackets and to limit salaries to $25,000 a year after various deductions.

The primary function of the hundred-odd field offices of the wage-hour division will be to answer specific questions of employers and employes as to the application of the executive board.

Exemptions include "individual promotions or reclassifications, individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges, operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of service, increased productivity under incentive plans, and operation of a trainee system or such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed."

If the wage-hour office determines that board approval of an increase is necessary, it will help the employer prepare the application, which then will go to one of ten regional offices (including Cleveland) soon to be opened by the board.

In applying for board approval, the employer must say whether price ceilings would be affected and whether his employes are represented by a union. Where price ceilings are involved, an opinion will be sought from the office of price administration, and where there is a union, its officers will be notified and the union will have an opportunity to support or object to the application.

Under tentative plans, a WLB regional director will be authorized to pass upon applications for wage or salary increases to which employer and employes have agreed. If the regional director rejects an application, one of the parties may appeal and have the case heard by a panel of three persons representing industry, labor and the public.

NEW TRIAL OF FOREST GLEN CASES ASKED

20 Defendants Make Appeal; Say New Evidence Found Since Trial.

Seven Marion men and one former Marion man are among 20 of 33 men convicted of mail fraud and conspiracy in the sale of lots in three central Ohio cemeteries who yesterday asked the Sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals for a new trial on the grounds that new evidence had been discovered, according to an Associated Press report from Cincinnati.

The Marion men are E. G. Blue, who is now farming in Union county, George E. Reinwald, A. L. Mallott, S. C. Neidigh, who is working in Columbus, G. F. Buck, L. A. Cratty and C. O. Willey. Earl Holliday, former Baptist minister here who was living in Highland Park, Mich., when the Forest Glen trial was in progress, is now employed in a foundry at Canton.

Others in Group

Others in the group are Paul Secord of Delaware, W. Hal Marshall of Morenci, Mich., R. C. Beck of Toledo, H. G. Berry of Toledo, Willard S. Holcombe of Columbus, Earl Pardee of Findlay, G. F. Stott of Springfield, Carl Benman of Cleveland, William L. Rucker of Salem, William N. Clark of Columbus, Dan S. Riggle of Columbus and Byron L. McClure of Columbus.

Grant E. Mouser Jr., who with Matthew Bigger of Columbus represents 14 of the 20, said this morning that one of the jurymen has signed an affidavit that he was coerced into returning the verdict convicting the men.

Mr. Mouser was in Cincinnati yesterday when the motion for a new trial was filed and returned to Marion last night.

Charge Coercion

The juryman's affidavit filed with the motion said the verdict was obtained by "coercion threats, compromise" and that his signature was obtained by methods which "smacked of third degree," according to the press report.

The men were convicted at Columbus April 7 by a federal court jury which heard six months of testimony against officers and salesmen of Forest Glen, Inc., Marion firm which promoted burial plot sales in cemeteries at Columbus, Springfield and Marion.

RICKEY TO HEAD BROOKLYN DODGERS

Leaves St. Louis Cardinals After 25 Years.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 — Branch Rickey today was named president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey was signed to a five-year contract, effective Nov. 1. He succeeds Larry MacPhail, who resigned the position to take a commission in the armed services.

The board of directors declined to name the salary terms, but as vice president and general manager of the St. Louis Cards, Rickey's salary and commissions were believed to have run as high as $75,000 annually.

Rickey comes to the Dodgers after a quarter century with the Cards as president, field manager and then vice president and general manager of St. Louis' farm system, which he inaugurated around 1920.

He is referred to as the "father" of baseball's farm system, which yielded the Cards four world championships and six National league pennants starting in 1926. He closed out his career at St. Louis with a World series victory over the New York Yankees this fall.

One of Rickey's first tasks probably will be selection of a manager. It is understood that Leo Durocher, Dodger manager for the last four years, is seeking a commission in the armed forces, and may not be available even if Rickey would want to keep him on the job.

J. E. Oliphant, president of the Marion Community Foundation, through which the drive is being staged, said this morning it would be impossible to get a complete report from the two industrial divisions before Monday.

R. E. White, general chairman, will preside for the reports.

Brief talks will be given by V. J. McMullen, division superintendent of the Erie railroad, Harold J. Grigsby, secretary-treasurer of the Marion-Reserve Power Co., and A. B. Smith, county agricultural agent.

The invocation will be given by Rev. E. H. Wierth of First Evangelical and Reformed church.

Among the unsolicited contributions that have come into campaign headquarters was $5 from the Mark Street school pupils who took up a collection among themselves.

Drive officials asked today that firms entitled to a poster for having reached the assigned contribution and who have not yet received a poster should get one at the campaign headquarters in the Y.M.C.A., or call 2930.

GERMAN DRIVE PUSHES AHEAD IN CAUCASUS

Nazis Open Attack in New Direction After Reds Hold at Mozdok.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Oct. 29 — Soviet military dispatches said today the Germans were gaining ground with a large-scale offensive in a new sector of the central Caucasus, attacking the deep Red army defenses across the Nalchik plateau with troops, tanks, artillery and planes.

This shift in invasion pressure southwestward from the Mozdok area was noted as Stalingrad's garrison held on in the 66th day of siege against German attempts to capitalize on a 200-yard gain in bloody fighting yesterday.

Blizzards have been raging in the Caucasus mountains and bitter cold has now set in. Russian dispatches said many German soldiers had been frozen to death in caves.

Strike on New Route

The Nazi command struck against Nalchik, on a round about route toward the Georgian military highway terminal at Ordzhonikidze, after being blocked in the Mozdok sector and thrown back in the area of Tuapse, far to the northwest.

Special ski and sled detachments were moved up by the Germans.

Izvestia said the Red army was employing a mobile defense against the armor-supported enemy infantry.

Two or three Nazi battalions were declared hurled against Nalchik, a town of 13,000 population known as a health resort, 50 miles southwest of Mozdok and 60 miles northwest of Ordzhonikidze.

(A Berlin broadcast recorded in London declared the invaders had captured Nalchik.)

Germans who sought to follow up a slight gain in the battle of Stalingrad yesterday were declared repulsed, more than 100 falling fatally wounded by Russian fire.

Although the main Nazi line was recently reported driven from south Stalingrad to the steppes outside the city, the communique spoke of a trench raid "in the southern part of Stalingrad" in which Red army troops destroyed seven blockhouses and several dugouts.

"Altogether," it said, "16 enemy planes were destroyed during the day."

More than 2,000 men were declared sacrificed by the Nazi high command yesterday for a limited extension of hard won holdings within Stalingrad's northside factory area.

In addition, about 500 more Rumanians perished in continued attempts to wrest a community northwest of Stalingrad from the Red army's grip, the midnight communique said.

The line of march for the parade of the Harding pilgrimage Sunday has been changed, Col T. E. Andrews announced today The parade will leave Central Junior High school at 2:30 p. m., proceed east on Center street to State street and south on State street and Delaware avenue to the memorial.

MacArthur Asks Unified War Command in Pacific

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 — Mounting protests against a divided command in the South Pacific appeared headed today for climactic action by what was regarded in some quarters as an appeal from Gen. Douglas MacArthur for unified direction over the entire embattled area.

Answering a newspaper report attributing the two separate commands in the Pacific chiefly to "political Washington", and a "MacArthur - for - President campaign," the 62-year-old leader of United Nations forces in Australia disavowed any "political ambitions whatsoever."

From his headquarters last night MacArthur declared that any contrary suggestion "must be regarded as merely amiable gestures of goodwill, dictated by friendship."

Will Finish As Soldier

"I started as a soldier and I shall finish as one," he said. "The only hope and ambition I have in the world is for victory for our cause in the war."

This, topping demands from Capitol Hill for better teamwork in the Pacific war theater, was interpreted by some sources here as at least an indirect appeal to eliminate any political considerations that might be hampering his direction of the war effort in that part of the world.

The congressional protests became more vocal this week after Vice Admiral Robert L. Ghormley was replaced as commander of the southern Pacific area embracing the Solomon islands by Vice Admiral William H. Halsey.

There was no explanation for the change but it was recalled that United States naval operations in that area had cost three cruisers, the aircraft carrier Wasp, five destroyers and four other ships.

Capital Attitude Cited

The newspaper comment that drew MacArthur's statement was written by the Christian Science Monitor's Washington correspondent, Joseph C. Harsch, who remarked that "no great has been the dissatisfaction with progress in the Solomons that Washington opinion has veered somewhat away from its strong anti-MacArthur bias."

"Political Washington," he wrote, "was largely responsible for setting up two separate American commands in the Far Pacific, and it did this partly because of jealousy of MacArthur's great public popularity and partly because the conservative opposition press launched a 'MacArthur for President' campaign without any encouragement from the general himself."

FARM PRICE LAW ATTACKED

Agricultural Bloc Mobilizes for Fight on Interpretation of Measure.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Angry farm state senators mobilized for an attack today on what they termed "high-handed and illegal" administration of the revised price control law.

They framed their guns on an interpretation of the law inserted in the congressional record by Senator Brown (D-Mich) under which prices of eggs, chickens, butter, cheese, potatoes and flour were frozen, and on a projected program of subsidies which Senator Reed (R-Kan) said the administration had in mind.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) told reporters Economic Director James F. Byrnes, Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard had imposed a provision of the law prohibiting fixing of farm ceilings below parity.

Henderson told the committee Monday he was not deviating from the law and would pursue his course unless his head was "knocked off" or he was "gunned out of my job."

Aiken said Henderson and his associates relied on a "false interpretation" by Senator Brown under which benefit payments received by farmers, and subsidies as well, might be used to effect artificial parities.

Frank Gannett, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, declared in a statement last night that it appeared on reliable authority that the Brown interpretation, or summary, actually was written in the office of price administration.

Senator Reed announced Senator Gillette (D-Iowa) would ask for a complete investigation by the agriculture committee.

J. H. MAISH CO. JOINS PAYROLL WAR BOND LIST

On 100 Per Cent Roll; Others on the Way.

Announcement of certification of another Marion company and of nine concerns installing the payroll savings systems of war bond buying was made today by the Marion county war bond committee.

The committee has certified the J. H. Maish Co. as having 100 per cent of its employes investing 10 per cent of their salaries in bonds.

A special committee headed by Carl Lemnitzer has reported that nine companies are installing the payroll savings system and will soon reach the 90 per cent participation basis.

The concerns are the Marion Stone Co., the Wilson Bohannan Co., the Erie railroad, the Marion Brass & Bronze foundry, the Marion Milling Co., the Marion Machine Tool Co., Old Fort Mills, Inc., Isaly Dairy Co., and the Hanley Engineering service at Prospect.

Big Machine Has 185-Foot Boom, Takes 25 Cubic Yard Bite.

A huge, walking dragline that would measure up to some ideal specifications for a prehistoric monster has recently been completed by the Marion Steam Shovel Co and sent along to the northern Illinois coal stripping fields where it is doing its bit in the nation's war effort.

The very fact this big machine can walk makes it perform somewhat in the manner of mastodons. This machine rests on a huge tub-like bottom. On each side hang large feet, each of them as big as a canal boat and each heavily constructed When the operator wants to move the machine, he literally walks it to the desired new location This feature permits use of the dragline in earth that would be too soft to support a conventional-type caterpillar base.

Has Tremendous Reach

The big machine has a 185-foot boom which enables the operator to scoop up half a railroad carload of earth and deposit it some 350 feet away from the point of pickup, if he desired. However, actual operations seldom call for such a swing, which would involve a 180-degree turn of the dragline on its circular base.

The big dipper takes a 25-cubic-yard bite every time it scoops up earth, gravel or shale. Two such bites ordinarily would weigh about 50 tons, which is the capacity of an ordinary gondola type freight car.

The weight of the machine would put even prehistoric dinosaurs to shame. This one weighs

Chest Fund, War Bonds Get Harding Scrap Drive Money

Believing that the money realized by Harding High school in the recent scrap drive should go back to the government and the community, the student council yesterday voted $100 to the United War Chest and the balance to the purchase of war bonds.

"I'm proud of them," Principal O. H. P. Snyder said in discussing the action taken by the council, which represents the sophomore, junior and senior classes. Tom Hurst, a senior, is president.

The amount to go into war bonds will be around $300, it is believed. The exact amount will not be known until the last of the scrap is removed from the school ground. There were about two loads remaining on the ground yesterday.

One girl on the council said "We need a lot of things around here, but we don't need anything as badly as we do victory," the principal reported. He said her expression typified the attitude of the entire membership.

In contributing to the United War Chest, the consensus was that many workers in Marion are contributing a day's pay or more and the high school pupils should give the $100 as representing their work in getting in the scrap.

ENEMY PAYS BIG PRICE IN GUADALCANAL

Heavy Land Battle Rages for Air Field; Fijis and Hebrides Threatened.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 — American and Japanese forces squared off today for another furious round in the spreading fight for the Solomons after a series of terrific land battles bled the enemy heavily of men and equipment.

While United States air and ground forces fought savagely to hold the Guadalcanal airbase, the battle of the southwest Pacific appeared to be surging outward 400 miles northeast of the turbulent islands.

Superior numbers of enemy ships, planes and men were reported mobilizing at the approaches to American bases in the new Hebrides and Fiji islands, where they could strike at allied communication lines to Australia.

The navy reported no new details of warship activities in the Pacific last night, but General Douglas MacArthur's allied bombers from Australia raided the enemy again, damaging two Japanese ships in the Rabaul harbor at New Britain and splashing the Japanese base at Buka in the northern Solomons with explosives.

Warship Hit

One of the bomb hits at Rabaul, more than 600 miles northwest of Guadalcanal, caused an explosion on a warship, MacArthur's communique asserted today (Australian time), and another set an unidentified vessel afire. The assault on Buka's airdrome and buildings destroyed an enemy bomber on the ground and started fires visible 60 miles away.

Australian ground troops in New Guinea continued to press the Japanese back toward their northcoast invasion base, further thwarting the invaders' efforts to move on to the allied Port Moresby base.

The navy gave no indication that a decision was near in the Solomons struggle. The all-out assault which started Oct. 23 had tapered by Tuesday to what the navy communique termed "small scale thrusts" at the American positions on Guadalcanal.

Enemy Losses High

These enemy attacks like the more savage Japanese thrusts preceding them were thrown back and the navy describing the results of the land fighting, observed:

"Enemy losses in men and equipment in troop actions on the island since Oct. 23 have been very heavy as compared to our own."

While both sides appeared to be getting their second wind, naval observers kept a concerned eye on the waters north of the Santa Cruz islands where American planes torpedoed a Japanese plane carrier Monday night and bombed a cruiser.

The enemy naval concentrations in the entire area were regarded as heavy and U. S. navy quarters voiced expectation that another major sea battle might flare up at any hour.

Showdown Appears Near in Pacific

By The Associated Press

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 29 — A showdown in the southwestern Pacific between America and Japanese forces appears to be at hand.

The magnitude of the Japanese push, with a superiority of sky, sea and land forces mobilized for months and stemming from their power house on Truk island, places the security of the main American positions between the Hawaiian islands and Australia in peril.

On Guadalcanal island in the Solomons, American marines and army troops are hemmed in on a small strip of land six miles long and three miles deep, with Japanese forces in overwhelming numbers on three sides and the enemy having the advantage of

'Old Boomerang' Comes Home

By WILLIAM F. BONI
Associated Press Military Editor

BURBANK, Calif., Oct. 29—There is little room for sentiment in the business of turning out combat planes. Yet there is more than a touch of romance to the parallel assembly lines that feed planes out the open hangar door at the Lockheed plant.

Down one line come flashy P-38's, the twin-booned, kite-like fighter plane with twin engines, a lot of firepower, a world of speed—and a reputation still to win.

Down the other come stolid Hudsons, bombing version of the airline Lodestar, a plane with a proved fighting and a reputation long established.

Not Yet Tested

The P-38 should be one of our best fighters. It is a high-altitude job, and ranks with the fastest planes in the world. Yet except for a few quiet trips across the Japanese in the Aleutians, and good work as a camera-carrying reconnaissance plane in the southwest Pacific, it has not had a major test, and its wraparound still is slim.

The Hudson scrapbook bulges with reports from many fronts, most of all from Britain. These planes have so established themselves in British favor by many incredible returns from hazardous flights, that they have won the nickname of "Old Boomerang."

The reports on Old Boomerang go over first peak at Dunkerque. While that famous small-boat fleet was taking the British army off the beaches, more than 100 Hudsons were in almost constant action—so constant that many of the bombers returned to their bases with the upper skin of their wings sprinkled from repeated dives and pullouts.

Only seven of the entire force was lost—and one flight of three, attacked by 40 Nazi planes, was credited with downing or disabling seven without loss to themselves.

First to drop bombs and set afire the oil tanks at Bremen and Hamburg, the Hudsons also located and attacked the German battleship Bismarck as she put out from Norway and, together with Consolidated's Catalina flying boats, helped track her down for her eventual destruction by the British navy.

How Nickname Won

But these are not the feats by which the Hudson won its nickname, rather, they were such accomplishments as these:

Flying low on patrol in a Norwegian fjord, a Hudson hit a projecting rock on a small island. A hole was ripped in the cabin floor, the roof was knocked off the pilot's cabin, the props were bent, the radio was damaged, and one engine was knocked out briefly. Home was 300 miles away across the North sea. The Hudson made it, on navigation "by common sense and guesswork," and crash-landed in Scotland without injury to anyone on board—and the landing was made with loaded bomb racks...

Back from a raid on Holland, a Hudson landed with a cannon shellhole in the wing so large a man could crawl through it...

The peacetime prototype of the Hudson carried Howard Hughes to his round-the-world record. The records she's setting now are of a different type—but "Old Boomerang" still comes home.

A device has been invented to help photographers judge correct exposure time and lens opening at any time of day in any month in any part of the world.

Congressman Critical of Navy News Practice

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Rep. William P. Pfeiffer (R-NY), in "an open letter to the press," said yesterday that the country needed "a change in publicity practice involving our navy. The administration must put all the cards on the table face up."

"Washington has always been ready to criticize the newspapers and the press services for their handling of the news," he said. "On the other hand, if the newspapers attempt to criticize the handling of the news or the censorship they are immediately branded as 'defeatist,' 'fifth columnist,' or 'typewriter strategists.'

"As a matter of fact, the mistakes that the newspapers have made have been due largely to the concealment of information and the peddling of false information by the government authorities who have shown an alarming distrust of the very agencies that can best promote the winning of the war."

Portuguese concerns holding concessions for passenger and freight transportation have been required by the government to operate at least 25 per cent of the vehicles with gas.

WAR PLANT FATIGUE IS MEDICAL PROBLEM

Doctors Give It Special Attention, Fishbein Says.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 29—Dr. Morris Fishbein of the American Medical Association declared yesterday that the medical profession confronted by many war difficulties, was giving "most careful consideration" to the special problem of war industry—fatigue.

Dr. Fishbein, in an address prepared for delivery at the annual national safety congress, asserted that with industry working at "tremendous" pace the physical and mental condition of workers was higher than in peacetime because men were, in many instances, using their capacities.

"We know that little can be done and probably more will be done when working hours in war plants exceed 60 to 65 for men and 55 to 60 hours for women.

"The special problem of war industry is fatigue. This is a problem to which medicine today must give the most serious consideration. More and more new people are coming into industry. Inexperienced and unskilled workers become more easily fatigued than experienced and skilled workers and, therefore, more susceptible to accidents," he said.

NAZI HAUGHTY AT SPY TRIAL

Berger Defiant Under Questions of Defense Attorney at Chicago.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 — Ernest Peter Burger, one of the eight Nazi saboteurs who were smuggled into the United States by submarines, finished his story of the plot today with a display of anger over the question of whether he had saved his skin by turning against his confederates.

He was on the witness stand at the trial of six German-Americans on treason charges when Defense Attorney Paul Wernholt asked, "Were you promised immunity if you testified against other members at the military commission trial in Washington?"

Burger drew himself up stiffly, stared haughtily at the lawyer and declared

"I may remind you, sir, that you are speaking to a German soldier. The United States government respected me by not offering any promises I expect the same of you, sir."

Burger and George John Dasch were sentenced to prison when their six fellow conspirators were condemned to death and Attorney General Biddle later reported they had "helped considerably" in preparing the case against those who were executed.

Earlier, Burger's account of how the saboteurs were trained in the reich for a destructive campaign against American war plants was completed by his testimony about how they received approximately $153,000 to finance their mission, and how his squad of four came ashore on Long Island in a rubber boat shortly after midnight on June 13.

He related they buried their uniforms and boxes of explosives, donned civilian attire, went to the Amagansett railroad station, took a train to Jamaica, bought new clothing and split into pairs. He added that he and Dasch went to New York, where he was arrested in a hotel room by the FBI, but he did not tell how he was found.

Trial Details Revealed

On cross-examination, Burger gave these bits of information about the military commission's secret trial of the saboteurs: There were a "great number" of charges. The eight were tried at the same time, and all testified. There was no jury. One of the witnesses was Mrs. Erna Haupt, mother of Herbert Hans Haupt, one of the saboteurs.

Mrs. Haupt, a defendant in the current trial, wept when her son's ring was identified by Burger today.

Asked if he knew what happened to young Haupt, Burger replied:

"I understand he gave his life for his country."

A query as to what country he meant prompted Burger, who once lived in Detroit and Milwaukee, to state: "I meant my own country—Germany."

The defendants, accused of assisting young Haupt, are his parents, Hans and Erna Haupt; his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Froehling, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Richard Wergin. They have pleaded innocence.

CHARGES OR PROOF

Which Determines YOUR Vote?

Election issues are often confused by wild last-minute charges, unfounded rumors and deliberate lies and smears. So use your INTELLIGENCE as a loyal American and taxpayer when you go to the polls November 3rd. Vote on candidates according to what you KNOW about them — not according to what some political "mouthpiece" charges.

Gov. BRICKER'S RECORD Gives you the PROOF

Ohio has more factories in war work than any other state. State business has been decently and economically handled. Expenses have been reduced, no matter how political tricksters attempt to juggle the figures. State money has been used to serve the public, not to pay political debts. State taxes have been kept low and no new or increased taxes are needed. A $40,000,000 inherited deficit has been paid off and a $20,000,000 surplus laid by for the taxpayers. Local governments have received a larger share of state money than in any other state. Honesty, efficiency and economy in state government have set a new mark in Ohio history.

There's the record Governor Bricker has made. Show your approval and insure continuation of this sort of government. Go to the polls on Nov. 3 and

Gov. Bricker Has Earned Reelection

IF OHIOANS are hiring the best available man for the governorship next Tuesday, they will give John W. Bricker the job. He has earned reelection by giving them the kind of public service they would like to get from all public officials.

As governor, Mr. Bricker has maintained Ohio's sovereignty, its dignity and its financial integrity. He has made it a more desirable part of the union. Residents of many other states have looked this way with envy.

It may be assumed that the governor's political opponents have been alert for something to use against him in the current campaign. Yet, they are so hard up for something to talk about that they have gone back a quarter of a century to rediscover that Mr. Bricker once was a chaplain in the United States army. By some curious twist of political logic, that is supposed to be a reason for not reelecting him governor in 1942. This kind of campaigning has disappointed many Ohioans who credited John McSweeney with more wisdom.

Most prominent characteristic of the Bricker administration has been a sense of thrift. The state's affairs have been brought out of the chaos that overtook them during the years when deficit spending was becoming a national custom. Other states have not been so fortunate.

Gov. Bricker claims no credit for the revenue that flowed into the state treasury. His accomplishment was to hold down expenditures and resist efforts to spend the state's money as fast or faster than it was collected. He merely exercised ordinary prudence.

The new thought in government finance is to spend and spend. The taxpayer wishes there'd be more saving so there wouldn't be so much need to lax and tax. In Ohio, the taxpayer is getting a break.

Appointment under the Bricker administration have been made carefully, with stress on ability. The state has been getting its money's worth in public service. Law enforcement has been conscientious and equitable. The whole state administration has reflected the guidance of a hard-working governor taking his responsibilities seriously.

When a candidate's opponents can think of no better reason to vote against him than the fact he doesn't belong to their party, the decision isn't hard to make. The Star believes John W. Bricker has been an excellent governor and deserves reelection.

Citizen Willkie Reports

THE UNITED STATES is hurting its priceless goodwill in the Far and Near East by failure to match promise with performance. We have fallen down on lend-lease supplies and championship of the "four freedoms."

The United States is in grave danger of losing the peace and it clearly is fumbling the war. Its heart is right, but its head is muddled. It is fighting the war at less than maximum efficiency because it has failed to realize its potential strength and to make its objectives clear.

The United States, the last best hope of mankind for a better way of life than millions of human beings have known, has failed to rise to the challenge of worldwide confidence in its ability to supply leadership in the people's war for freedom from empire builders and oppressors.

This is Citizen Willkie's summary of the results of his international poll of public opinion conducted during a tour of the Near and Far East—results dropped like so many demolition bombs on official and unofficial smugness. This is Citizen Willkie exercising the right of free speech on a national radio hookup in wartime. This is Citizen Willkie doing some of the global thinking that should go with global warfare. This is Citizen Willkie stirred with a sense of inadequacy in the presence of great opportunity. This is Citizen Willkie refusing to keep quiet about matters that President Roosevelt has said should be trusted only to "experts."

It remains to be seen what will be done with his challenge to his countrymen and his government. The whole performance could be treated as only another interesting observation, or it could be treated as a chance to make improvements where it seems plain to one able observer, with an unusual chance to do some on-the-scene observing, that improvements are needed.

Mr. Willkie's report on the state of the nation abroad is an important document. It's going to be as hard to pigeonhole and forget as its author.

News Behind the News

Reasons for Russia and China Not Getting Promised Aid Are Numerous.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Mr. Willkie's main charge was that Russia and China are not getting the aid they were promised, but he did not say why.

The answer is not easy to find. It would be logical to assume, from what has been announced about our production falling short of our goals, that production is responsible.

No precise figures have been allowed to penetrate the censors. Naturally, these are valid military secrets. But it is known that August production, for instance, was 14 per cent behind the goal set for that month on Aug. 1. July was seven per cent behind its goal.

Unofficial estimates have been made that we may fall 25 per cent short of our 60,000 plane goal on the year, and may make only 45,000 planes by Jan. 1.

But this deficiency is at least partly attributed to the fact that we switched from much light fighter plane production into heavy bombers, which require many times as much time and material.

Production

But the production officials around WPB do not accept the theory that production deficiencies are responsible. They say that in July and August they were running at three and a half times the pre-Pearl Harbor rate of production.

The money is pouring out at the rate of $5,000,000,000 a month for war goods. They will not take the blame. They say the trouble is shipping.

The shipping authorities in the government say their end is holding up well, at least the construction end. Ship production for the year, they say, will exceed their 8,000,000-ton goal, and month by month, they are ahead of their program.

But losses, particularly on the Murmansk run to Russia, have been running particularly high lately. Much materiel which has left these shores has not arrived in Russia.

Much more has been lost after it arrived at Murmansk, a circumstance for which the Russians themselves are responsible. German bombings have destroyed dock facilities to such an extent that at times a score of ships have been piled up in that port waiting to unload, and while waiting, they are stationary targets for German bombs.

The way to China is even more difficult, but not for the same reason. All materiel must be flown in the way Mr. Willkie went, from India, unless he opened up a new skyway through Russia the way he came back. In any event, the only way to reach China is by air.

Many Factors

Four motored bombers from the Ford plant can be flown off the production line into China, as that plant reaches substantial capacity. But, if China today had all the planes promised, there would still be the question of getting gasoline in there in sufficient quantities to run them. One hundred bombers would eat up all a pipeline could furnish.

These considerations chase the official answer to Mr. Willkie's charge into difficult ground, where solution will not be easy or quick.

No one here will say that sufficient goods to fulfill promises to both Russia and China have left our shores, but even if it had, the promises would not have been fulfilled.

Therefore, responsibility must rest on these several factors—production, shipping losses, German bombings of Murmansk, the difficult route to China.

Production Rising

The production level will continue to rise, and the percentage of expenditures which is going into construction work will continue to diminish.

Of the $5,000,000,000 of expenditures this month and the $6,000,000,000 expected for next month, less than half is now going into construction.

On the year, the gross total expenditures, they now say, will run over $40,000,000,000, but the rate of production now is around $70,000,000,000 a year.

This and the other recommendations of Mr. Willkie's speech seemed pointedly directed at Mr. Roosevelt—questions like Indian independence, the deficiency in distinguished American representatives in the Near East and China.

Democrats in congress apparently felt hurt that Mr. Willkie traveled around the world under Mr. Roosevelt's auspices and then assumed a critical tone, even after the implied criticism he once received from the White House during the trip.

The Willkie suggestion for an extensive and apparently revolutionary new world order in the post-war world failed to make up for his attitude with them.

Many of the Republicans (silent as far as official statements were concerned) interpreted this suggestion as a reflection of radical New York viewpoint.

While the speech caused much conversational controversy and few public comments, it created a profound impression everywhere here.

However, the only "point" on which a substantial number of congressmen in either party came to Willkie's support was that there must be further clarification and more specific official indications of what we expected to get out of this war—and that may be coming after election.

Equipment for Homes

Preview of Outlook for Appliance Repairs.

By HERMAN ALLEN

YOU probably saw in the papers about how some 3,000 factories in 74 metal-working industries had virtually stopped manufacturing goods for civilian use.

More than nine-tenths of the untilled orders held by these plants were for war goods.

"That's fine," you thought. "Industry is really getting into the swing of war production.

"But what do we do when the washing machine finally gives out?"

I inquired about that at the War Production Board, and it looks fairly good as for getting repair parts for household goods. Production of many new items such as washing machines, electrical appliances and refrigerators have been cut off completely in many cases, of course, but most industries are continuing with at least a trickle of replacement parts.

One large sewing machine concern is doing the biggest repair part business of its history. With clothing—and almost everything else—up in price, there is a vast increase in home sewing.

"Based on the materials allotment for repair parts for agricultural machinery," a WPB spokesman told me, "I would say that civilians can count on adequate repair parts for esential home equipment."

WPB has granted farm equipment manufacturers 130% of their 1940 consumption of material used for repair and replacement parts.

WPB Chairman Nelson backs this up. "The things for civilians in a wartime economy are to be programmed and scheduled just like the army and navy," he told a recent press conference.

That probably would mean that for every 100,000 airplanes, WPB expects to grant materials for 100,000 gear wheels for washing machines, for example—or for every 50,000 tanks, 50,000 essential dinguses for electric refrigerators.

But don't expect to find too many new heating elements for electric hair dryers, or extra ice trays for refrigerators.

Essential repair parts for autos, motorcycles and bicycles are sure to continue to get the green light. Transportation is too necessary to overlook.

Don't look too hopefully for new kitchen stoves made of heat-proof plastics. Plastics were one of the first things to turn up unexpectedly short soon after we got into the war. Things that go into many of them also are used to make smokeless powder and other munitions.

Radios? No new ones, of course, after present stocks are exhausted, but the Office of War Information wants a working radio in every home. The outlook is that strenuous measures will be taken to work this out.

The cartoon now shows the car on blocks, jacked up in a field, while Devlin is riding down the road on a bicycle.

STOCKHOLM—More than a million members are enrolled in the Swedish Federation of Labor. The 8,000 trade unions in Sweden now have as members 23 per cent of the nation's population between the ages of 15 and 65 years, this percentage being the world's highest, it is believed. Practically all of the wage-earners in industry and transportation have been absorbed into unions, and if the farm laborers and forest workers became affiliated, a maximum membership of 1,200,000 is foreseen.

Today and Tomorrow

From Address Given by Mr. Lippmann at Foch Memorial Dinner in N. Y. Last Night.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

I AM glad to be here this evening. The time is well chosen. For two and a half years the Frenchmen who never ceased to make war have been mobilizing the French nation for the day which is now in sight, when the resistance of the French people will become the rebellion of the French nation, and the rebellion will become the war of liberation waged by the Fourth Republic. During this same period the Americans have been mobilizing, too. Now for many months our forces have been gathering on the soil of France and on the soil of Britain—at all the approaches to Germany and to Italy—in a huge semi-circle which extends from Murmansk to Iceland, through the British Isles, around and through Africa, to Egypt and the Caucasus and the Persian Gulf.

These are the actions which give point and substance to the few things we can say and to the many things we do not say but think and feel this evening. We pay tribute to the memory of Marshal Foch. Why? Because we know that the time is drawing near when France will be ready to tear up the Armistice of 1940 and re-enter the war. We pay tribute to the deeds of Pershing's army. Why? Because we know that another and a greater American army is moving into position for the attack.

It is, therefore, not only fitting, it is necessary that France and America should now see clearly and speak frankly and act decisively. The re-entry of France into the war and the American advance in Europe are a combined operation, the two blades of the same scissors. The historic hour is at hand and there must be no confusion. There must be no misunderstandings among us, no misunderstandings among Americans, no misunderstandings among Frenchmen, no misunderstanding among Frenchmen and Americans, no misunderstandings with our Allies. There must be discipline and the total concentration of forces. For once the die is cast, once the great struggle is engaged, it can never be broken off again.

Let us, then, be clear and not subtle, decisive and not complicated, about the relations between France and America.

OUR war aim is to destroy the military power of the Axis, and if there are any who doubt it, let them consider the size of our forces and the extent of our installations and their disposition. If there are any Frenchmen in Vichy or in New York or Washington who still cling to the hope that we might join them in submitting to Hitler, let them stop and think, let them ask themselves whether we are such fools as to move great armies to Europe and Africa for the purpose of sitting there doing nothing forever. Let them ask whether they think the Americans have crossed the ocean in order to spend the winters in England and the summer in Africa with the idea of packing up and returning ignominiously home again.

To those Frenchmen who collaborate and still dream that they could persuade us to enable them to save their skins, we can offer only this advice: "Try, if you can, to think of some more practical way of getting out of the hole which you have dug for yourself to fall into. But do not wait too long. Do not wait until you think there are no risks. That will be too late."

Then, if there are any Frenchmen, who think, or pretend to think, or are under orders to say that they think that our armies, and the mighty armadas of the sea and the air, are gathering to steal bits and pieces of the French Empire, we must say to them that this is no insult to us. This is an insult to their own intelligence. For many years we have had innumerable and the persistent offers both from Germany and Japan to join them in dividing up the world, at the expense of France, Britain, China and Russia. They have begged us to play the part on a world scale which Mussolini tried to play in June, 1940, when he stabbed France in the back. If what we had wanted to do was to rob France of parts of her empire, we would not have had to wage war against Germany and Japan.

I DO NOT wish for a moment to give the impression that we want nothing from France. We want a great deal from France, infinitely more than all the riches of the French Empire. We want from France a decisive contribution to victory over our enemies and a guaranty of the security of

The Civilian type bonds may be purchased in denominations ranging from $50 to $1,000 (ma- ... turity value) by sending applica- ... tions to the Provident Trust Co. ... of Philadelphia, Pa.

If you work at a place where the payroll allotment plan is in effect you can have money de- ducted from your pay check for bonds. Bonds and stamps are on sale dozens of places in Marion. The postoffice is sales headquarters.

IF you want to contribute to a recognized charity, your best bet is a donation to the United War Chest now under way in Marion county.

Every War Chest agency helps directly or indirectly in the war effort.

Here are the local War Chest agencies and their war role:

Girl Reserves—Religious, educational and social activities for junior and senior high school girls.

Day Nursery—Proposed program to care for children of mothers employed in war jobs.

Civilian Defense—Charged with safeguarding Marion in the event of a war emergency such as a blackout or air raid.

Canteen Service — To provide cheer for men of the armed forces on trains that stop at the Union Station canteen.

Recreation—Proposed program of supervised leisure hour activities.

The War Chest agencies which will benefit from your contribution to Marion's drive include the USO and British, Chinese, Greek, Polish, Dutch relief and other activities well known and self explanatory.

If you are a member of an organized AFL or CIO labor group, your union will be glad to handle your contribution. Most widely accepted plan is to contribute pay equivalent to one hour for each month you work. But there's no limit.

THERE'S still another way you can help with your pocketbook. That's by wise and patriotic shopping. Normal spending will help Uncle Sam lick the inflation bugaboo.

So far, sugar, tires, automobiles, bicycles, boots and gasoline and coffee are the only commodities marked for rationing. But there are scores of other scarce commodities.

Since the war boom has put more money in your pocketbook, you may be tempted to pay a premium price for scarce commodities. DON'T. There'll be no end to the out-bidding and we'll all be losers as a result.

And DON'T HOARD. Washington asserts that hoarders are in the same class as saboteurs. Food dealers recommend a "hand to mouth" system of shopping to equalize distribution.

The overnight shift to war economy in America was bound to bring some shortages. Prove your Americanism by sharing equally. Uncle Sam has a war to win on the battle front. Help avoid conflicting problems on the home front.

the United States and of the Western Hemisphere. We know now from our own bitter experience what we knew in 1917 and then forgot until we woke up again in June, 1940, that we cannot have security unless France is the great free power of Western Europe and in North and West Africa and in the Mediterranean and in the Middle Atlantic.

Civilized men have always known that in the realm of the spirit none of us is free if France is in chains. What they have not always remembered is that they cannot even sleep comfortably in their beds at night if France is not a great power among the powers of the globe. We know now that the United States needs France. Without France we should still fight on because we know that it is safer to be at war with Hitler than at peace with him. But without France the war will be long. Without France it might never be concluded. Without France no lasting peace is even conceivable.

So what we want from France is nothing less than an alliance, and we want it now—now at the crisis of the war. We are not interested in trifles—in islands, palm trees, deserts, jungles, nor are we interested in ideologies, and the forms of government, and party programs. We have staked everything we have and everything we hope for—the whole of our young manhood, the whole of our labor and all our goods, and the very future of the American Republic on the outcome of this worldwide struggle. And so—when we speak to the French nation—we can be interested only in the greatest things. This greatest thing is the intervention of France in this war as a full and an equal fighting member of the United Nations. That, and not Martinique or Dakar, is what we want from France.

SO we do not say to the French nation: we are coming to liberate you. We say to them: we are coming to join you. We do not say to the French: please do not collaborate too much with Hitler. We say to them: collaborate with us completely and we shall destroy Hitler. We do not look upon France as a place inhabited by helpless people whom we must save. We look upon France as a great nation which is now mobilizing once more and is now rising in arms to redeem her soil and restore her power and to win back her place among those who will shape the future.

The recognition of General de Gaulle as the leader of the French nation in arms and of the French National Committee as the provisional government of all the liberated territories of France are, I am satisfied, measures which should not and cannot now be long delayed. In the great campaign of battles in the Mediterranean Sea which is now developing, the French, whether they are at our side or fighting from within the enemy's lines must be able to fight together. If they are to do that effectively, and not waste their forces and be massacred separately, it is essential that there should be no doubt whatever as to who is in command of all the French forces. There should be no doubt whatever that the Commander-in-Chief of all the French is participating fully in the strategical conduct of the war. This would be necessary no matter who General de Gaulle was. We may count it our very good fortune that he happens also to be one of the greatest soldiers of our age, and we should be guilty of an inconceivable folly if we failed to use the military genius of this extraordinary man.

Finally, I should like to say that whatever the future form of government of the Fourth Republic, and its social order, for the United States and for its allies what matters most is this: that the French nation should rise in arms under French leaders to assure its own salvation. For freedom is something which no people can have except from itself. What we most want is that this war should end in France with Frenchmen proudly aware that they have played their part in winning it. Only that pride can heal the wounds of France. And then we must want to be sure that those Frenchmen who save France have been our allies, and believe in us. For they will make the New France with which we must go hand in hand down through the years.

GABLE GRADUATED BY OFFICERS SCHOOL

Wins Second Lieutenant's Commission in Florida.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Oct. 29—Screen Star Clark Gable, graduating yesterday with 2,500 others from an officer candidate school, told an audience at the ceremonies "multiply us by millions of other Americans and you have what it takes to win the war."

Gable, who was commissioned a second lieutenant in the army air forces, was chosen to speak on behalf of the graduating class.

Tall, erect and bronzed from his training, Gable led his classmates in receiving diplomas from Lieut. Gen. Henry H. Arnold, commander of the air force.

"What's happened to you, general?" he asked the new officers seated on the grass in front of the speaker's stand. "Why have you changed so much in 12 weeks. Look around you. Look at each other. What you see is a picture of discipline. You know and I know that it is a discipline that did not come easily. . . .

"If I had learned nothing else in officer candidate school, that would be a lesson to prize all the rest of my life. Multiply us by millions of other Americans and you have what it takes to win the war, and what will cost us victory if we don't have it."

Gable, the screen star, earned $487,000 last year. As a second lieutenant, he will get $1,800 a year in addition to living allowances which will bring his income to somewhat less than $250 a month. During his 11 weeks in school here, he drew a corporal's pay of $66 a month.

General Arnold, in the principal address, told the graduates they were becoming members of a growing organization—the army air forces—which will have two and a half million officers and men by the end of next year.

Awards were presented to three men in Gable's class—to C. E. Wiley of Louisville, Ky., the military award; to Philip Goldberg of Springfield, O., the scholastic award; and to William E. Quinlan of Casper, Wyo., the athletic award.

Production of four hydroelectric power dams on the upper Rhone river in France will be increased from 529,100 to 2,300,000 horsepower.

R. W. Messenger, 99-Year-Old Marion County Man, Is Taken by Death

Attended First Marion County Fair at Meeker and Most of Subsequent Farm Expositions.

Death claimed Marion county's eldest citizen, Reuben W. Messenger, 99, yesterday at 5:15 p. m. at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Montgomery of 297 North Seffner avenue. Death was due to infirmities of age.

Although in failing health for the last several months, he had been confined only a little more than three weeks. Possessing a keen memory, despite his years, he remembered events of nearly a century ago and also found interest in present day affairs. He attended the first Marion county fair held at what is now Meeker in 1850, and with the exception of about 10 years spent in the West, he attended every fair since that time. He was a visitor at the 1942 county fair and at that time told friends that "maybe this will be the last."

Marked 99th Birthday

On the occasion of his birthday this year Mr. Messenger held open house for his friends on the anniversary and on the Sunday previous attended the family dinner and received a number of friends.

The near centenarian was born April 8, 1843 in Big Island township to Colonel E. Messenger a native of Litchfield county, Conn., and Elizabeth M. Johnson Messenger, whose birthplace was Champaign county. His marriage was to Violate C. Wylie on Oct. 22, 1867. Her death occurred Jan. 5, 1934. He was one of four brothers whose ages topped the eightieth milestone. Two of the four brothers are living. They are Everett Messenger, 92, and J. Ira Messenger, 83, both of Arcadia, Calif. A brother, N. J. Messenger, was 83 at the time of his death in 1928. Their grandparents, Reuben and Hannah Messenger also passed their 80th year.

Funeral Saturday

Children surviving are Mrs. Montgomery with whom Mr. Messenger made his home, Mrs. Lillie B. Cover of San Diego, Calif., Colonel W. Messenger of Wyandot county, Mrs. Beatrice A. Smith of Big Island township, and Jerome G. Messenger now in service and stationed at Camp Lee, Va. Also surviving are 17 grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren and one great, great grandchild. Mr. Messenger was a

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday at Trinity Baptist church, following short services at the home, Rev. J. A. Carriker, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church, will officiate and burial will be made in Pleasant Hill cemetery. Friends may call at the home after 7 o'clock tonight until the funeral hour Saturday.

PRICE WARNS PEOPLE MUST BE INFORMED

Declares Public Must Be Given War News.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Byron Price, director of censorship, says that "unless ample war news is given out by the government, our voluntary undertaking with the press and radio will collapse."

Price declared last night at a New York Times forum that "if the curtain is drawn too tightly, if official secrecy leads to widespread distrust and apprehension among the people, I doubt seriously whether newspapers and broadcasters will be so willing to cooperate in bottling up the news which always comes to them through their own outside sources."

Director Elmer Davis of the office of war information told the audience, which included government and news executives, that all sinkings of major U. S. naval vessels had been announced up to noon yesterday.

Davis said a full account of the Pearl Harbor attack was being readied for publication on its anniversary and would show that Navy Secretary Knox's announcements of ships lost were true.

The enemy, he said, has been far more secretive about losses than this country.

"You may hear otherwise," he continued, "but in most cases this willingness to accept wildly exaggerated rumor in place of fact is doubtless due to honest bewilderment."

FOREST GLEN

tion for a new trial asserted that:

Because two or three of the jurors refused to vote for a verdict of guilty on all defendants, the jurors agreed to compromise by bringing in a verdict of guilty on all 10 counts against part of the defendants and on one count against others.

Four of the jurors made "inflamatory and violent arguments and threats—that the jurors did not dare bring in a verdict of acquittal" against any or all of the defendants, since the government had spent more than $500,000 to try the case.

During the trial U. S District Atty. Calvin Crawford of Dayton charged the company received $1,854,000 from investors on promises of 25 to 100 per cent returns. He said investors actually received $803,950.

MANPOWER

half dozen or more manpower bills pending before congressional committees.

However, Senator Hill (D-Ala), author of a bill that would give President Roosevelt broad authority to say where a man or woman should work, told reporters he would press for speedy action by the senate military committee on his and several other measures.

"I think it is inevitable that we are going to have legislation which will mobilize all of our citizens for the war effort and which will direct them into the job they can do best," Hill said.

Opposition by labor leaders either to the "freezing" of workers in their jobs or government action transferring them from one field to another was said to have contributed to the decision to delay consideration of compulsory measures of the sort urged publicly by Chairman Paul V. McNutt of the war manpower commission.

The commission's action in directing local selective service boards to defer workers on dairy, livestock and poultry farms promised little or no relief to farmers who already have lost their hired hands to the armed services or to more highly paid industrial jobs.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) said there remained enough sugar beets in the ground in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio to produce 200,000,000 pounds of processed sugar but workers could not be obtained to harvest them.

DRAGLINE

2,300,000 pounds. The heavy metal framework above the enclosed part of the machine is 70 feet high—a height that's difficult to visualize from inspection of the accompanying photograph.

Scene of Operations

The shovel was built for the Northern Illinois Coal Corp. for use in its strip coal mines near Wilmington, Ill. In strip mining, the layer of earth or shale above a strata of coal is simply peeled off rather than a shaft being sunk into the earth. In this company's fields, it is sometimes necessary to move as much as 17 yards of earth or overburden to get one yard of coal. The company, which now uses exclusively Marion Steam Shovel Co. equipment for strip mining operations, has mined coal from beneath many thousands of acres, and the amount of overburden it has moved has passed the 250,000,000 cubic yard total.

The company's excavating and coal loading equipment includes five stripping draglines, three stripping shovels and four loading shovels, all Marion Steam Shovel Co. products.

One of the operators of the new walking shovel reported he has dug more than 11,000 cubic yards of overburden in an eight-hour shift with the new machine, or some 464 complete operations.

The company previously built a small walking type dragline which found a ready market for use in such use as levee work and operations in other areas where the footing was unusually soft. The new walking dragline for the coal stripping field is by far the largest walker the company has built.

DECEMBER CALL TO TAKE MARRIED MEN

Registrants Without Children Face December Draft.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—Lieut. Col. Carl C. Wahl, head of the manpower division of selective service in Ohio, estimated today that "approximately 50 per cent" of the state's December draft call will be made up of married men with a wife only."

Wahl, in an advance notice to local draft board, said the call would be filled by registrants in the following order, and those who have not been deferred for occupation reason:

1. Single men, including 20-year-olds.

2. Single men with collateral dependents.

3. Men married after Dec. 8, 1941; men married when selection was imminent; and married men who do not maintain a bona fide family relationship with their families.

4. Married men with wife only (no children).

"The boards must first have substantially exhausted the first three groups before dipping into the fourth," the officer said. "About 130 of Ohio's 330 boards have reported they virtually exhausted the first three classes to meet the November call."

Wahl informed the boards that if pending legislation permitting the induction of 18 and 19 year old registrants is passed in time to permit classification, time for appeal and general processing, "these registrants will be inducted" before the married men in the fourth group.

Col. C. W. Goble, Ohio selective service chief, said that from 30 to 60 days are required to process a registrant for final induction.

ALASKAN HIGHWAY OPEN TO TRAFFIC

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—The entire Alaskan highway is now open to traffic, Secretary of War Stimson announced today, weeks ahead of schedule.

Motor trucks started this week moving supplies and equipment to the garrisons in the North Pacific outpost, using the entire 1,671 miles of the roadway, the secretary told his press conference.

"Thousands of trucks will operate over the route all winter, carrying soldiers and supplies to Alaska," Stimson said. "Plans are under way to bring loads of strategic materials on their return."

The formal opening has been advanced tentatively to Nov. 15, instead of Dec. 1. Ceremonies are planned for a point on the Alaskan-Canadian border.

Stimson also announced:

A second and larger training school for the WAACS will be opened Dec. 1 at Daytona Beach, Fla. Hotels and apartments to be taken over by the army will provide facilities for more than 6,000 trainees.

Changes soon will be announced in the army specialist corps, set up shortly after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. Major General Dwight F. Davis organized the corps to make use of the services of men unable to meet all army requirements for combat service.

U. S. BOMBERS RAID LASHIO FROM CHINA

AT A UNITED STATES ARMY AIR BASE, SOMEWHERE IN CHINA, Oct. 29 — The Japanese airfield at Lashio, Burma, terminus of the Burma road, was bombed early Tuesday by B-25's of the China air task force.

These planes, two-motored Mitchells—the same as used in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo — flew through a screen of anti-aircraft fire to reach their target. Bombs were strewn along the air port and two hangars were hit.

Two or three Japanese fighters took off after the B-25's, but did not engage the Americans, who returned safely.

(There still had been no announcement by the army air force in China of a third raid in four days on Hongkong, which the Japanese said was made by American planes yesterday.

A small formation of American fighters tackled 20 to 25 Japanese planes in two flights near Mengtsz, in southern Yunnan province, yesterday and shot down at least three and probably five of the Japanese. Not one of the American planes was lost.

Investigation Opened in Detroit Bus Crash

DETROIT, Oct. 29—In company with railroad officials and police, heads of Detroit's war-burdened transportation system pushed an investigation today into the grade crossing crash which killed 16 motorbus passengers, 11 of them women.

Authorities arranged to take official statements from witnesses and survivors of yesterday's tragedy in which a Grand Trunk western passenger train demolished a crowded bus.

The bus driver, 25-year-old William Clos, was placed under automatic suspension and was instructed to appear at an inquiry. He was one of 27 occupants of the bus injured.

The victims included three school children and a University of Detroit student. Eleven persons suffered serious injuries.

Prosecutor William E. Dowling said he would attempt to determine whether the bus was too crowded to permit the driver to exercise proper caution.

Americans Find Plenty of Action on Convoy Lane

Gun Crews and Merchant Seamen Tell Stories in British Port; Ohioans Among Those Interviewed.

By The Associated Press

WITH U. S. NAVAL FORCES IN A UNITED KINGDOM PORT —(Delayed)—Americans who are fighting the battle of supplying Russia through the bread "bomber lane" of the arctic take their ordeals of fire and frigid waters in workaday stride.

U. S. navy gunners and merchant seamen interviewed in the nerve center of convoy control were all survivors of attacks by U-boats that hunt in packs and torpedo bombers that swarm like bees—but they have but one theme: to fight through to victory, whatever the odds.

More than 1,000 naval personnel survivors have been brought here after their ships were shot out from under them.

The most blood-chilling story from the convoy survivors came from Ensign William Roy Kirby of Coffeyville, Kas., in relating his experiences of Sept. 13 when German torpedo bombers made a mass attack.

On Leading Ship

"We were the leading ship in the convoy's starboard column," he said. "The leading ship in another column blew up with flames shooting up about 300 feet—and then we got it. A torpedo hit in the hatch where we were carrying ammunition.

Two more torpedoes crashed into the vessel, which went down in three minutes. All had to take to the water and I swam for it for only one liferaft was launched.

"I dived for that one," Kirby said, "but when I came up it wasn't there. I remember thinking I might become too numb to tie a knot so I wrapped a line they threw me around my wrist about eight times. I felt a pressure on the rope and then I don't remember more."

By that time he had been in the water, estimated to have been about 28 degrees, for 40 minutes.

"Later they told me that some one on the rescue ship climbed down and grabbed me around the shoulders and pulled me aboard," he said. "I sure thought I was a goner."

Ohioans on Ship

Members of Kirby's crew who shared the cold plunge included Lloyd R. Weeks of Columbus, O., and Robert William Ballman of Cincinnati, O.

Signalman John Joseph Boyle of Plymouth, Mass., was in a crew which manned guns on another ship which got through to Archangel in an early convoy but was sunk by three torpedoes on the return trip southwest of Spitsbergen.

The heaviest attack fought off by Boyle's gun crew on the Russia trip was heralded by a piercing shout from Gunner Clarence Henry DeLong of St. Louis, Mich., who fairly shook the ship with his, "Here they come."

They were attacked by 10 or 11 torpedo bombers.

"It was a wild day for awhile," said Boyle, "but we got the squadron leader when he flew within about 150 feet of us."

Among those serving with Boyle and DeLong were Andrew Francis Cocella of Glouster, O., Ralph Eugene Cox of Chillicothe, O.; and Thomas Benton Dennison of Akron, O.

Loses Second Ship

When a ship was torpedoed from under Lieut. (jg) John E. Kelly of Chicago, Sept. 13 it was the second time he had been forced to leave a sinking vessel in this war.

Charles Ratz of Cleveland emerged as the hero of Kelly's crew. He dived over a side of the ship into the freezing water without a lifebelt to help two men who were trapped under a capsized lifeboat.

After their rescue by a British destroyer all of Kelly's crew asked and obtained permission to stand action stations with the British crew.

In addition to Ratz they included Thomas E. Davis of Columbus, O., and Charles B. Allen of Youngstown, O.

Three Ohioans were among other naval gunners resting in the Red Cross center of this British port, waiting for the time when their government will take them home—for a well-earned leave. They were Louis J. Vigh of Lorain Less R. Baxter of Kent, and Herbert L. McDonald of Springfield.

MACHINE KILLS MARION CO. MAN

C. L. Cates of Near Meeker Caught in Corn Picker; Dies Short Time Later.

Claude L. Cates, 57, widely known farmer living near Meeker, was fatally injured when caught in a corn picker late this morning at the Earl Miller farm four miles southwest of Meeker.

Mr. Cates, a township trustee and former member of the school board, was found about noon after Mr. Miller started a search for him when he became overdue for lunch at the Miller home. Mr. Cates was found trapped in the corn picker. He was so critically injured that he died before he could be freed from the machinery, relatives reported.

The corn picker he was operating was a tractor-operated device, and Mr. Cates was operating it alone. He apparently had stopped the tractor to grease the picker or make some adjustment on it when his overcoat was caught in the moving parts of the picker. It was believed the mishap occurred about 11 o'clock.

Mr. Cates is survived by his wife and five children, Mrs. Emerson Dietseh of southeast of Marion, Mrs. Thomas Navin of Richwood, Forest Cates of near Big Island, Mrs. Raymond Rhoads of near Meeker and Lowell Cates of near Meeker.

The Miller farm where the mishap occurred adjoins the Cates farm.

Pythian Sisters Hear State Convention Report

A report of the state convention at Zanesville in September was given by Mrs. Louise Fogle at a meeting of Canby Temple No. 152, Pythian Sisters, Wednesday night. Plans were made for attending the district meeting at Delaware Nov. 6 when the Onawa Temple No. 600 will entertain the district.

Mrs. Tavener will give the response to the welcome address. WASP COMMANDER

Captain Forrest P. Sherman (above), commander of the aircraft carrier Wasp, tells at Pearl Harbor, T. This picture was sent by radio from Honolulu to the U. S.

heavy artillery, tanks and supplies.

Whether there will be a re-enactment of the historic stand on Bataan peninsula in the early stages of the war hinges on getting planes, heavy weapons, supplies and reinforcements quickly to Guadalcanal. The American forces there are confident they can hold out if such supplies and reinforcements reach them.

The Japanese have control of the air in the southern Solomons area and mass landings of troops indicate control of the sea in the Guadalcanal zone. In addition, a force of enemy carriers, battleships, heavy cruisers, destroyers and submarines is moving eastward to menace other American positions in the southwest Pacific. That force may be of sufficient superiority to give the Japanese widespread control of the sea. Attacks, from the sea and air, already have been made on American bases in the New Hebrides.

This is the first time since conquest of the Philippines that the Nipponese have put in motion such superiority in power against American positions in the Pacific. There is no doubt that it is an all-out effort to destroy these American footholds in the south Pacific.

Mt. Victory Farmer Hurt by Combine

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., Oct. 29—David C. Bealer, 61-year-old Mt. Victory farmer, suffered serious injuries Wednesday when he was jerked into moving machinery of a combine harvester at the C. K. Elliott farm, near Mt. Victory, and was so entangled that it required an hour's work by other members of the soybean harvesting crew to free him. He was brought to Antonio hospital where X-ray failed to reveal any serious fractures. Attendants said he suffered cuts, bruises, shock and loss of blood. He was attempting to oil the equipment, being used to hull soybeans, at the time of the accident.

African Battle Nearing Point for Clash of Tanks

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 29—The fiercely contested British offensive in the Egyptian desert has reached the point where one would expect it to develop into a battle of tanks. For the outcome of the conflict is likely to turn on these steel monsters.

Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's tactics against the axis indicate that this is exactly the position which he is trying to bring about. The wedges which he has driven into Field Marshal Rommel's strongly fortified line are calculated to maneuver the German into flinging his panzer forces into the melee to prevent a complete break-through.

The development would bring axis tanks up against destructive British artillery and anti-tank gun fire.

Rommel Saves Tanks

Actually this is what happened Tuesday, but Rommel withdrew his armored units after they had suffered considerable losses.

Thus far the British Eighth army has been up against the necessity of cracking Rommel's line with frontal assault by infantry, airplane and artillery.

Such frontal attack is one of the most difficult operations in war. It also is likely to be one of the bloodiest.

In trying to gauge the progress of such an offensive it must be borne in mind that the drive is laid out in stages and worked on a railway schedule.

For one section to race ahead while a neighboring section remained behind would break the line and lay it open to flank attacks by the enemy.

Seeks Flank Attack

General Montgomery's ultimate aim is to maneuver the enemy into such a position that he can make a flank attack. Both of Rommel's flanks are protected—the northern by the Mediterranean and the southern by the great Qattara depression.

If and when we reach the point where British armored units are able to execute a flank movement we shall get what is likely to be one of the biggest tank battles of the war. Rommel's greatest strength apparently lines in his panzer divisions.

So far as air power, he is much inferior and he also probably has fewer troops by several divisions.

Under the circumstances it seems certain that Hitler will try to send air reinforcements to his desert army. Undoubtedly supplies and troops also are being moved across the Mediterranean both by air transport and by boat.

The British commander may be expected to force a quick decision. Montgomery's game is to get Rommel quickly.

Lack of "bulk" may be your difficulty

If you're feeling "low," dragged out, and quite up to par, consider this: In these war days your living habits are upset. Meals especially are likely to be hurried, improperly balanced. And you're apt to forget the importance of adequate "bulk" in your diet.

Yet the lack of this one food essential is one of the common causes of irregular constipation. For this trouble, chemical laxatives are but temporary remedies; they don't get at the cause.

If this is your trouble, you need more "bulk"...and KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, a delicious crisp cereal, supplies it in tempting, appetizing form. Eat ALL-BRAN regularly, drink plenty of water and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Foregoes Baron's Title To Fight for Allies

By International News Service

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—George Von Eberstein, personal secretary to Brigadier General William Marquat, Southwest Pacific anti-aircraft officer, would be a baron today—if his father had remained in Germany.

As it is, his father, Frederick Van Eberstein of Seattle, has a baron's title, but refuses to use it.

And, despite the definite Teutonic suggestion in his name, Von Eberstein's soft southern accent belies his German heritage.

He's from Savannah, Ga., and his wife is living in Salt Lake City.

PENSION PAYMENTS HIT NEW OHIO HIGH

Further Increases Due To Meet Living Costs.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 28—Ohio's old age pension payments will reach an all-time high in November, Karl R. Bahr, chief of the division of aid for the aged, estimated today.

He predicted grants would 13 semi more than October when average approximately $26.94—a previous high was established—and that payments would exceed the record total of $3,800,000 awarded 138,708 pensioners this month.

Adjustments were made on the basis of need to help recipients meet increased living costs and the average probably will be upped to $27 by the end of the year, he asserted.

"The aid for aged payments which our office has certified for November payment," the pension chief declared, "is as can thus stand as an answer to persons who, deliberately malicious or ignorant of the facts, have been issuing statements that grants which were increased during October would be reduced next month."

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, a Democrat, charged last week that the division had manipulated pension payments for political purposes. He said October payments were boosted and he had evidence November awards would be decreased.

Five Principal Tax Changes

WASHINGTON, Oct 27—There are five principal changes affecting corporations in the new tax law.

They increase the surtaxes, clap on a 90 per cent excess profits levy, place an over-all limit on taxation, provide some relief in the form of post-war rebate and current debt reduction credit, and put all corporations on a calendar year tax basis for the future.

Let's see just what each of these changes is:

1. Normal and surtax.

The normal tax rate is unchanged for corporations with normal tax net income of not more than $25,000, the rate is 15 per cent on the first $5,000 17 per cent on the next bracket up to $20,000, 19 per cent on the $20,000-$25,000 bracket. For corporations whose normal tax net income is over $25,000, the rate is a flat 24 per cent.

The surtax rates have been boosted. For corporations whose surtax net income is not more than $25,000, the new rate is 10 per cent. For corporations whose surtax net income is over $25,000, the new rate is 16 per cent, applicable to the whole amount.

Thus the total of corporate income tax at full rates will be 40 per cent, compared with the present 31 per cent.

(Note: Corporate net income for tax purposes is decreased by the amount of any excess-profits net income, which is subject only to excess profits taxes.)

Corporations with affiliated companies may file consolidated returns on their regular as well as excess profits taxes if they pay an extra 2 per cent in corporate income surtax.

2. Excess profits tax.

A flat 90 per cent is levied on the "adjusted excess-profits net income"—that is, the excess-profits net income less the excess-profits credit and a specific exemption of $5,000.

In determining the excess-profits credit by the income method, the figure of 95 per cent of average earnings in the base period (1936-39) is retained. However, in case of a deficit year or years in the base period, the law provides for increasing the base by using for one such year an amount equal to 75 per cent of the average of the other years.

For corporations using the invested-capital method of determining the credit, there are two changes in rates, for the first $5,000,000 of invested capital, the rate of 8 per cent is retained; for the next $5,000,000, the rate of 7 per cent is continued. For the amount from $10,000,000 to $200,000,000, the net rate is 6 per cent (instead of 7), and over $200,000,000, the new rate is 5 per cent (instead of 7).

3. Over-all limit: a limitation on the total effective rate of income and excess profits taxes assessed against any corporation is placed at 80 per cent of corporation surtax net income (computed without any excess-profits credit).

4. Relief provisions.

A post-war credit in the amount of 10 per cent of the excess profits tax will take the form of non-negotiable, non-interest-bearing bonds to be issued to the corporation by the treasury, to be paid off after the war.

Up to the same amount, a corporation may take a credit against excess profits taxes to the extent of 40 per cent of the money it pays out during the taxable year in retirement of debt. But this credit reduces the post-war credit by its amount.

5. The calendar-year basis.

All corporations are placed on a calendar-year tax basis in the future. For 1942, there are two provisions: a corporation with a fiscal year which ended on or before June 30, 1942, will pay under the rates of the old law; a corporation having a fiscal year ending later than June 30 in this year will have to make two computations and pay proportionately.

6. Notes:

The dividing line between short-and-long-term capital gains and losses is fixed at six months (formerly 18 months).

The capital stock tax and declared - value - excess - profits tax are retained.

Taxpayers are permitted to charge off losses on property seized by the enemy.

Aviary Movie

By The Associated Press

GOSFORTH, England — England's smallest cinema is a converted back garden aviary which once held 100 love birds. It belongs to Nicholas Frazer and is the pride of his 11-year-old daughter Muriel, who entertains her school chums there with moving pictures, at one-penny admission — for war funds.

Upper Sandusky Seaman Relates Story of Sinking of Carrier Wasp

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 29—[illegible] Richard Book, 19, who [illegible]ng a line at the star[illegible]rains on the Jap-tor[illegible] aircraft carrier Wasp [illegible]e was sunk, is visiting [illegible]rs. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil [illegible]re.

[illegible] who has been home on [illegible] the past week, was able [illegible] tell friends and neighbors of his experiences. He had previously been under orders to reveal nothing at all about the sinking or his adventures until officially released by the government.

He enlisted in the Navy, Jan. 6, 1941, and had recently been with the Wasp on patrol duty in the Pacific.

Carrier based planes were just returning from patrol, Book said, when the first destructive "fish" struck. Two more torpedoes hit almost immediately after the first explosion.

Planes which were still out were directed to another carrier and officers began organizing the men aboard to abandon ship as fire and the explosion of ammunition magazines and the plane refueling system, added to the damage done by the torpedoes.

The blistering heat of the flame sprayed deck made the 40 foot jump into the oily water a comparatively easy matter and the youthful coxswain eventually battled his way through the rolling waves to one of the emergency life rafts.

The survivors later were picked up by a destroyer.

Ten days later they boarded a transport and returned to the United States. Since he enlisted Book has traveled, he estimates, more than 100,000 miles, to Bermuda, Scotland, Malta, Trinidad, Newfoundland, Cuba, through the Mediterranean sea, the Panama Canal, and in the Solomons.

After a 30-day furlough he will be reassigned to sea duty.

EDITORIAL COMMENT ON YOUR CONGRESSMAN FREDERICK C. SMITH

Marion Star, May 3, 1938—

"If he (Dr. Smith) goes to Congress he can be expected to make his presence and views known in positive fashion. What he says and does may not be approved by the politicians and tax-spenders, but it will be pleasing to the taxpayers, and it's not often they have reason to feel pleased."

Marion Star, Feb. 2, 1942—

"We were more than pleased to hear that our representative in Congress, Dr. Smith, had taken a firm stand against pensions for congressmen and we thoroughly enjoyed reading his emphatic denunciation of the measure. . . . For this declaration and his other expressions of disapproval he will have the commendation and thanks of not only his constitutents but of Citizens generally throughout the country."

The Morrow County Sentinel Feb. 19, 1942—

"The Country needs men of Congressman Smith's fearless views and seriousness of purpose. His type in Congress provides a balance for thoughtless ones such as those who introduced the pension legislation for Congressmen, a proposal he opposed from its introduction."

Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum, Jan. 30, 1942—

"From the day he went to congress more than three years ago Mr. Smith has followed the economical policies he advocated from platforms here and in other towns of the Eighth district. He said in his first campaign that he was unalterably opposed to unnecessary expenditure of public monies. After three years in office he is still practicing what he preached. Here alone is a record which should return him to congress next fall."

Washington (D. C.) News, March 21, 1941—

"One of the most remarkable of the many statements made to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, when the so-called Lend-Lease Bill was under consideration in its original form, was that by Representative Frederick C. Smith, of Ohio, a Republican member of the Committee on Coinage, Weights and Measures, and one of the foremost students of money in Congress."

Kenton News, March 13, 1941—

"If all congressional districts in the nation were represented as faithfully in Washington as Ohio's Eighth, many of our common liberties would yet remain with the people. Eternal Vigilance is the price of Freedom."

PRISONERS ASK ARMY SERVICE

Training Battalion Asks Clemency So Members Can Have Go at Axis.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—The Ohio penitentiary military training battalion, an organization of some 160 inmate volunteers, wants out—to have a go at the axis.

To a man, battalion members petitioned Gov. Bricker for clemency so that, if qualified under army regulations, they might enter military service.

The plea, said Warden Frank D. Henderson today, was for individual consideration based on the record of each prisoner and not declared to obtain release for service in a "black legion." He expressed the opinion a majority of the men could meet army eligibility standards.

"I feel there are many men in this battalion," Henderson said, "who should be given an opportunity to serve in the armed forces of the United States, where I feel they would serve with credit to themselves and to their country. By so doing they would demonstrate their rehabilitation and their value to the country, not only as soldiers but as useful citizens after the emergency has passed."

C. Emory Glander, the governor's clemency secretary, forwarded the petition to the Ohio pardon and parole commission, whose chairman, H. W. Jewell, recalled that already about 700 former Ohio prisoners are in army service.

"I believe that a man in service actually in under better supervision than the state is able to exercise," said Jewell. "However, every army regulation pertaining to former prisoners must be complied with."

The army stipulates that only first-termers are eligible for service and even these are barred if they were convicted of such crimes as treason, murder, kidnaping, rape, arson, sex offenses or narcotic law violations.

Two of A Kind

Queen and First Lady Have Like Interests.

They are sisters under the skin.

Wide World Features

Pioneering Eleanor Roosevelt and conservative Elizabeth Windsor will not lack for common interests during the current precedent-shattering visit of Mrs. Roosevelt to London.

Both are possessed of apparently limitless energy; both have a deep and sincere interest in the welfare of the common people. Queen Elizabeth doubtless will take joy in showing Mrs. Roosevelt the day nurseries and the community kitchens of Britain, the organized war work of British women and the way England has stood up under three years of total war. Mrs. Roosevelt certainly will enjoy seeing them.

Both Queen and First Lady have managed to juggle their private and public lives with consummate skill, slighting neither. Both are devoted wives, excellent mothers. Neither ever has been known to shirk an official duty.

Queen Elizabeth has visited the miners, the factory girls, the working men of Britain just as Mrs. Roosevelt has made friends with every stratum of American life. Both are confirmed globe-trotters.

The First Lady is more of an individualist than the Queen, but were their positions and traditions reversed, it would not be surprising to think of Elizabeth following many of the same pursuits by which Mrs. Roosevelt has upset precedent in America.

Queen and First Lady both shun pretense, both believe in being themselves at all times and to all people.

Both are quick to see through meaningless flattery, both are possessed of a ready wit.

Though both dress with dignity and taste, neither could be called a fashion plate. Clothes are incidental to more important interests in the lives of each.

Both enjoy the simple life. And the First Lady no doubt will dine on fish and chips with the Queen as enthusiastically as George and Elizabeth sampled American hot dogs with the Roosevelts in Hyde Park.

MURDER on the Campus

By JERRY BRONDFIELD

CHAPTER NINE

The Brush-Off

Susan thought Todd would call. He should, she thought. He should forgive him, for not being so. Then, Wednesday, when the girls paged her, her room and told her she was wanted on the telephone, Susan knew it was Todd. It must be Todd; it was Phil for a drive," he said. "I thought it was cool. No, I don't mean coming over. I'm sorry, I'm busy," she added.

Todd broke in, but before Susan could hang up on him, Phil Smith got a word in. "Have I done anything to offend you? I'm going to tell you something you don't know about. You know what it was that landed Duke Malone in prison? It was a letter signed by the name of Leo Drake. I wonder if the great quarterback knows that?"

Susan put down the phone slowly. Her lips parted in disbelief. She sat for a full minute while Phil's last words sank in.

Her father had—no, it sounded incredible. How could Phil know a thing like that? Yet why should he tell her something that could so easily be disproved if it weren't true? There was a funny feeling in the pit of her stomach. It would be there at least until she was able to get her father on the phone.

Talk With Dad

Todd knew the gray stone penitentiary. But he'd had he hated it as much as he did now as he waited for his father to come out and sit across from him behind a low railing in the visitors' room.

Then presently Duke Malone came out, finally. He was a tall, slender man and his hair was gray at the temples. Slight lines in his face broke into a smile when he saw Todd.

"Hello, Toddy," he said cheerfully, sitting down. It was the nickname he had given him as a small boy and he always used it. "It's good to see you again. It's been almost a month."

Todd looked at his father and tried to smile, but couldn't.

Duke Malone lowered forward, his hands clasped close to his chest. "So they found out, eh . . . and it made quite a splash. I'm sorry, Toddy. I had hoped . . ."

"I'm sorry, Dad. For your sake," Todd said. "I knew it would hurt you more than me. I'm no preacher, but that—that—well, there's a guy who would get a lot of pleasure out of the thing."

"Yeah, Toddy, I think I know. We learn a lot of things here in a funny manner. You just have to keep your pan up and your colors flying. I'll be out of here in a few months with a break."

"I feel like dropping out of school," Todd said sullenly.

"You try anything like that and I'll whale the tar out of you," Duke said grimly. "I won't have a quitter for a son, understand?"

They were both silent for a moment. "How's the football situation?"

Todd shrugged. "We had an easy one last Saturday, you know. Went east and whaled Columbia. Coach only used the first team about 10 minutes. Some of those linemen used up the 10 minutes I was in there just working on me vocally. You know . . ."

Duke nodded. "Yeah—I know. You'll be taking a lot worse bad-mouthing as it goes on. You'll just have to take it, Toddy. Once they get your goat you're not much good. When they toss their especially sweet remarks at you think about me getting out of here in a short while. Maybe it'll work. Try it, Toddy."

"Okay, I'll try it."

News for Todd

A soft autumn rain was falling over the city. The trees, loaded to saturation point, dipped their branches toward the ground. Todd, walking along with his raincoat buttoned close, frequently had to duck as he walked across the dark campus.

Once, when he ducked, a thigh muscle twinged. He had spent some time after supper at Trainer Johnny Miller's quarters getting a heat-ray treatment.

The chimes from Jewett Tower boomed out the 9:30 tune as he crossed Main street. Just as he passed the State bookstore a familiar figure popped out of the drug store and hurried up Sycamore. On an impulse Todd ran after her, even though the thigh muscle ached.

"Susan," he called softly.

She stopped quickly and turned around. He looked down at her. He could hardly see her eyes in the darkness under her oil-skinned hooded hat.

"Don't we run into each other in the funniest places?" she said. "There's nothing funny about a rainy night. I like them."

"So do I. That's why I didn't mind coming out in it."

They walked along slowly. "I meant to call you and tell you I feel guilty telling you almost two weeks later."

"That's all right," she told him quietly.

There was a guilty feeling of her own racing through her. She made up her mind. There was only one honest thing to do. She would have to tell him about her father because sooner or later he would find out himself and then it would be so much worse. It would be better if she told him herself.

She tried once but it wasn't easy. She tried again, and this time she started blurting it out. So one could get it over with. Todd. I've learned something else about—What I want to say, Todd, is that it was my father who helped put your dad in prison. He's a police lieutenant, you know. But he couldn't help it. He had his orders. Please let me tell you about it."

He had stopped walking and was looking down at her with a queer expression. She saw the look and took him by the arm. "Don't stop walking," she said. "Keep going. I'll be able to talk, then."

Grange Banquet Set for Nov. 14

Announcement of the fourth, fifth and sixth degree banquet to be held Nov. 14 in the recreation room of the First Presbyterian church was made at a meeting of Progressive grange Tuesday night. Three candidates were given the first and second degree, and one member was received by transfer from Williamsport grange in Morrow county.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Messenger, whose marriage took place recently, were complimented with a shower. They found their gifts hidden in a large wishing well. Mrs. Messenger formerly was Miss Zenabelle Moehn. Serving as a committee for the social hour were Miss Virginia Pace, Mrs. Merle Mack and Miss Virginia Epley. Arrangements for a program in two weeks are in charge of Warren, Francis and Vernon Gruber.

NO ROOM LEFT FOR DEAD

The question of how to accommodate the dead faces officials of Buenos Aires, Argentina, as Chacharita cemetery is now filled. Municipal regulations call for transfer of coffins containing bodies to niches within a period after burial, but the niches are all filled. Since last December a temporary deposit has been used and it now contains 800 bodies. Graves containing 600 more bodies also require niches.

AMERICAN VICTORY MUST BE WON IN AMERICAN HOMES

It is true today, more than ever before in history, that war must be fought and won by nations as a whole. Behind the fighting forces, behind military strategy and the central government, there must stand, strong and determined, a united home front.

The woman who learns to sew for herself and her family . . . the woman who makes a serious study of food problems . . . who thriftily manages the family income so there will be a surplus to invest in War Bonds and future security . . . that housewife is fighting the war like any soldier.

She stands guard over the family pay envelope, using every penny wisely, buying only the things her family must have, and making sure they are of sound, durable quality.

She turns instinctively to stores she can trust . . . stores that give her full value. She depends on stores like Penney's, whose avoidance of all unnecessary frills and price increasing services, have always served her well.

CUT IN NEWSPRINT SEEN DUE SHORTLY

New Advisory Council Considers Curtailment.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Curtailment of newsprint and other paper production appeared likely chiefly because of shortages of electric power, manpower and transportation.

Mr. Palmer, deputy chief of the war production board's printing and publishing branch, said today that the newly created newspaper industry advisory council discussed several possible percentages of curtailment at a closed session with WPB officials and was informed that a freezing of paper production was necessary.

A horizontal cut in paper consumption affecting all branches of the publishing industry, would be the first type of use-control order production curtailment, he said.

Additional reductions were necessary, Palmer added, each branch of the industry would be asked to take a percentage of its past consumption.

The 10 per cent cut in paper output recently was studied by WPB. Canada, supplying most of the newsprint used in the United States, was expected to act shortly.

U. S. Army Officer Buys Costly Australian Jewel

By International News Service

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—Many American officers in Australia have succumbed to the lure of the famed Anzac—fine black opal and other precious gems and thousands of the rare gems have been sent to wives and sweethearts in America.

But the prize and record for appreciation of the decorative stones goes to Captain Edward Hawkins of Washington, D. C., and Chicago. Hawkins—who explains he is something of a rare gems fancier—paid two thousand Australian pounds or more than $6,000, for an opal ruby.

The stone, which Australian jewelers assert is one of the most perfect ever found in the Antipodes, will be a gift to Hawkins' wife, who lives in Chicago.

Halloween Food Plus Fun

JACK-O'-LANTERNS For a Halloween furlough.

Jack-O'-Lanterns

1 package orange gelatin, 2 cups hot water, dried currants, 6 halves canned peaches, 6 marshmallows, flattened.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Fill wide sherbet glasses about 1-3 full and chill. Press currants into rounded side of each peach half to make eyes, nose and mouth of Jack-o'-lantern face. When gelatin is firm, place marshmallow in center of each glass and cover with peach half, cut side up. Pour remaining cold, syrup gelatin over peaches and chill until firm. Serves 6.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Wide World Food Editor

All work and no play can make Jack a dull soldier or a listless war worker. An old-fashioned Halloween party with good food and fun is a grand form of play for the boys in the armed services or the men and women on the home front.

It can be a small informal party in the home, or a larger affair sponsored by a church society or school group. Stick to the oldtime Halloween theme of a spooky frolic for games and decorations and let the refreshments be in keeping with wartime economy and food shortages.

Ginger Cookies with grinning faces are good served with hot coffee, cider or cranberry punch. Fresh fruits and popped corn or popcorn balls complete a simple menu, easy to do. To make the cookies, mix together ½ cup melted fat, 1 cup molasses and 2 eggs. Add 1 teaspoon each of ginger and cinnamon and ½ teaspoon each of cloves, nutmeg and salt. Stir in 3½ cups flour, 2/3 teaspoon soda and 1 teaspoon baking powder. Shape into a roll 2½ inches in diameter and chill. Cut off thin slices and place them on greased baking sheets. You can make faces by cutting out features with a sharp knife and a thimble. Or make the features from almonds and raisins. Bake 10 minutes in moderate oven.

Cranberry Punch: To serve 12 or 14, mix together 6 cups cranberry juice, ½ cup light corn sirup, 2 cups orange juice and ½ cup lemon juice. Chill. Stir well and ladle from a bowl fitted into a hollowed-out pumpkin.

Doughnuts: Mix together 2 tablespoons fat and 1 cup sugar (save up your sugar for this party dish), add 2 beaten eggs, 1 teaspoon each cinnamon, salt and vanilla. Beat well. Lightly mix in 4 cups flour and 4 teaspoons baking powder. Chill dough and roll it out on floured board or table. Cut out doughnuts and fry in deep hot fat until brown. Doughnuts should be turned but once during the frying. Drain and serve "as is" or rolled in cocoanut, chopped nuts or sugar. String up on a small toy broom handle and pass out to the guests.

Popcorn Balls with nuts are something new. Boil without stirring 1 cup molasses, ½ cup water, 2 tablespoons vinegar and 1 tablespoon butter. When a hard "click" ball forms when tested in cold water, add ½ teaspoon soda; stir thoroughly and while foamy pour over 2 cups popped corn and 1 cup salted peanuts or other nuts. After 5 minutes — or when cool enough to handle — butter your hands and shape into balls.

Pipeline from Texas To Be Extended East

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 29 — The 24-inch pipeline from the east Texas oil fields to Norris City, Ill., will be extended to the Atlantic seaboard.

Announcing this yesterday, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board said that 221,000 tons of steel would be allocated for the extension.

Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes said the 857-mile $60,000,000 extension would assure a direct daily pipeline delivery of 300,000 barrels of crude oil to the eastern seaboard.

FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

Chili Tasty Native Spice

By ALICE DENHOFF

With the warning to conserve spices that are imported, comes the welcome knowledge that a real American spice is coming into its own. Chili, as you undoubtedly know, is the native seasoning of our West and Southwest. It was brought to California from Mexico by the padres. Ever since, this savory pepper has been an important California product.

Chili powder is made from the dehydrated, ground pods and blended with other spices. While both chili powder and chili pepper are important seasoning ingredients in many parts of the country, in some sections the housewife rarely if ever employs this native American seasoning to give a tang to her dishes. With this thought in mind we are devoting today's space to recipes using this tasty American spice, and we hope you will try and enjoy them and become a regular user of chili.

Corn Souffle

Next time you make a corn souffle spice it a bit. Melt a tablespoon butter, add 2 tablespoons flour then a cup of milk. Pour a small amount of this mixture over 2 egg yolks, then add to first mixture, stirring constantly. Season with ½ teaspoon each pepper and dry mustard, teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon chili powder. Cook for a few minutes then add one can whole kernel corn. Fold in 2 well-beaten egg whites. Pour into buttered baking dish and cook in pan of hot water at 325° F. for one hour. Serves 6.

Beef Chili

Once you've tried this beef chili con carne, you'll become a chili con carne addict. It is an economical dish since it can be prepared from the beef used for making beef stock. Melt 2 tablespoons butter and one large shredded onion and a small can pimento chopped. Fry until brown. Add 2 pounds cooked beef cut into small pieces and cook for 10 minutes. Then add 2 cups beef stock, tablespoon chili powder, teaspoon salt and a pinch of black pepper. S. one hour in frying pan tight cover and serve with cooked rice.

Liver Birds As A Menu Feature

By BETSY NEWMAN

Every home manager is watching (or should be) for vitamin-rich, mineral-wealthy foods to serve her family. Liver contains Vitamins A and B—thiamine and riboflavin—and the iron and copper needed to build blood and avoid anemia. Try liver birds as a change from the usual liver and bacon.

Liver Birds

1 lb. lamb, pork, beef or calves' liver, bacon.

Have liver cut in long, narrow slices, wash, drain and dry. Lay a slice of bacon on each slice and roll with bacon on the outside. Fasten with toothpicks and sprinkle lightly with flour. Brown quickly in hot bacon drippings, then place in baking dish and nearly cover with meat stock or hot water. Cover pan and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Season with pepper, lift rolls carefully to hot platter, and thicken gravy slightly with flour. Serve very hot.

2 c. bread cubes (3 slices), 2 egg yolks, ¼ c. maple syrup or cane syrup, 1½ c. water, 1½ c. irradiated evaporated milk, 2 egg whites, few grains salt.

Beat egg yolks, add maple syrup, water, milk and bread cubes. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff but not dry, then fold in bread mixture. Pour into buttered baking dish, set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until set—about 1 hour. Serves 6.

Marion City School Board Explains Stand in Asking for Two-Mill Levy

Members Unanimous in Decision To Present Proposal to Voters in Tuesday Election.

Herewith is one of a series of articles to be published in The Star in which Marion city school officials will have opportunity to explain the need for the two-mill levy for school operating purposes on which Marion residents will vote next Tuesday. The accompanying article was prepared by city school officials.

The members of the Marion city board of education are Harry J. Barnhart, Dr. R. T. Morgan, Frank Robinson, Dr. F. L. Thomas and J. D. Torrence.

They were elected to this position by the vote of the electors of this school district. Members serve without compensation.

It is the duty of the board to provide adequate housing for schools, to secure qualified instructors, to provide the necessary apparatus and to make all other necessary provisions for the schools under its control.

In discharging this responsibility the board has given careful consideration to the services it is obligated to provide for the children of this school district and to the problem of procuring sufficient money to pay for such service.

After carefully studying the financial structure of the schools, the board came to the unanimous conclusion that additional money is necessary for the operation of the schools under its jurisdiction in order that a reasonable program of education might be offered to the youth of this city.

The board in passing the resolution calling for a vote on the question of an additional two-mill levy, felt that the electors of the school district should be acquainted with the need for more money for schools.

In asking for a vote on this question the board members feel that they are only discharging the obligation they assumed when they took the oath of office. Failure to foresee the need for additional funds and failure to present this question to the voters for their decision would bring just criticism of the board.

The voters will decide at the November election whether they want to provide more money for schools. If a majority of those voting on the question favor it, more money will be provided.

If a majority of those voting on this question vote against it, then additional funds from this proposed tax will not be provided.

The board of education is unanimous in its feeling that the levy should be approved. If it is not approved the voters will be in the position of assuming responsibility for a crisis in the schools, should one develop due to lack of adequate funds, as far as funds from this tax are concerned.

The motion calling for a vote on the question of an additional two-mill levy was made by Dr. R. T. Morgan. It was seconded by Dr. F. L. Thomas. On roll call on this question the vote was: Thomas, yea; Robinson, yea; Barnhart, yea; Morgan, yea; Torrance, yea; yeas five. Nays none.

BRICKER CALLS ON U. S. TO FIGHT FOR PEACE

McSweeney Criticizes Governor's Appeal to Teachers.

By The Associated Press

Gov. Bricker said last night the nation should fight for a victorious peace, while his gubernatorial opponent, John McSweeney, criticized a letter he said the governor sent to Ohio school teachers asking them to vote for him next Tuesday.

"Let us have a victorious peace," Bricker said in an address at Canton, "and on that day let us unarm the enemies of humanity and keep them unarmed until they can live with the rest of the world in peace."

McSweeney, referring to a letter he said Bricker sent teachers, commented in a talk at Akron:

"They should be voting for him when many of them throughout the state have not been paid for several months."

The Democratic candidate declared Bricker was devoting his time "not to the war effort, but to certain policies, particularly his surplus in the state treasury" and reiterated statements that the surplus was built up at the expense of local subdivisions.

Republicans will gain more than 50 seats in congress at next Tuesday's election, Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) said at Cleveland.

"All states north of the Mason Dixon line, with the exception of Montana" will go Republican, the senator predicted.

Whim of Two Fliers Blamed for Air Crash

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29—The whim that led two fliers to arrange a meeting high over a rugged mountain pass is blamed by a congressional investigating committee for the mid-air collision of an army bomber and an airliner near Palm Springs last Friday, resulting in death for all 12 aboard the latter plane.

The aerial rendezvous, said Rep. Jack Nichols, Oklahoma, committee chairman, was disclosed yesterday by 2nd Lt. W. N. Wilson, 25, pilot of the bomber, who is held for court-martial on manslaughter charges.

Nichols said Lieutenant Wilson testified that he had encountered the liner's co-pilot, L. F. Reppert, at a party the night before the crash, and that Wilson had arranged to time his takeoff from Long Beach, Calif., so that he would meet the eastbound commercial transport in the vicinity of San Gorgonio pass.

"Dust to Dignity" Is Theme of Evangelist

"From Dust to Dignity" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. Harry Fagan, evangelist, at the Marion Gospel Center, last night. He declared, "Man, made from dust yet in the image of God, fell into spiritual lowness through sin. But through Christ man was elevated and dignified to a glorious position in the Kingdom of God and in the life to come." Tonight he will speak on "God's Lighting System."

Inductees' Waiting Period Cut to Week

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—The inactive status period granted newly-inducted draftees before they begin military service was ordered cut from two weeks to one week by the war department today, effective Nov. 1.

"This step is a logical consequence of the recent deferment of agricultural workers, requested as a matter of national necessity by the war manpower commission," Secretary of War Stimson said in a statement.

"These deferments in November make it necessary for us to draw upon the men on inactive status, in order that we may receive the number of men that the army must have. Otherwise the war manpower commission's action would result in serious shortages next month.

Urges Ohio Motorists To Fill Applications

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 29—Ohio's motorists can register for gasoline rationing "in a minute or two" if they obtain application forms in advance, says Harry T. Beckmann, Ohio director for the office of price administration.

He said forms would be available at most Ohio gasoline stations, garages and auto clubs by Saturday and urged motorists to have applications filled out when they appear for basic "A" ration books Nov. 9-11.

Much of the information required in application forms is contained in auto license registrations, but serial numbers of the five tires the motorist expects to retain also must be included, he asserted.

Gasoline rationing is scheduled to start Nov. 22.

WOMEN'S NIGHT MARKED AT EPWORTH SERVICE

Evangelistic Program Tonight Arranged for Young People.

At a "Women's Night" service in the "victory evangelistic meetings" at Epworth Methodist church, Evangelist Myron E. Taylor spoke on the subject, "A High Price in an Early Day," last night. He introduced his sermon by saying, "We are hearing a great deal about the high cost of living these days, and few people are more conscious of it than the women folks who try to keep within the budget, though the price of food stuffs has greatly advanced.

"Prices are high," he continued, "and this applies to nearly everything that we buy, but I am talking about something for which our great God paid a greater price than was ever paid for anything from the beginning of time up to the present hour. To redeem us from sin, and to bring salvation and a hope of heaven to man, God gave that which was dearer to His heart than anything else in the world, even His only Son. What a price was paid for our salvation!"

"In Old Testament times God allowed the life of a lamb to be substituted for the life of a man, providing the one who offered the sacrifice would carry out the other ordinances, and show his faith in the Lamb of God who would eventually come, and make one supreme sacrifice for the sins of the whole world. Our only possibility of salvation is through trusting fully in the sacrifice made by that Lamb, the Lamb of God."

Tonight is to be observed as Sunday school night, and a large crowd of young people is expected. The evangelist's subject will be "Crossing the Line." Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rasmussen will furnish a musical program.

Presidents To Play Redmen in N.C.O. Battle at Bucyrus Tonig

Harding To Wind Up Road Season in Crawford County Game; Kickoff Scheduled for 8 P. M.

MARION HARDING's football Presidents will be at full strength for their North Central Ohio league battle with Bucyrus tonight at 8. The game, to be played on the Lane Street athletic field in Bucyrus, will be the Prexies last out-of-town game of the season.

Coach Victor Dorris indicated both LeRoy Harvey and Harold Jenkins, hampered in recent games by illness and injuries, would be in shape to go the full distance against the Redmen. Both players, cogs in the Hardings' offensive attack, played in last week's Saturday game, lost by Harding by a 20-0 count, but their effectiveness was considerably less than usual.

Fullback Harvey suffered a slight head cold in the Mt. Vernon game early in the season and has not attained top form since. A severe head cold has hindered Jenkins considerably.

Following an hour workout under the Harding stadium lights last night, Coach Dorris said all boys apparently were ready for the important game, headliner of a three-game North Central Ohio conference card.

A's To Play Galion

Other league games this week find Ashland and Galion battling tonight on the latter's home field and Mt. Vernon opposing Shelby Saturday.

Coach Dorris was expected to shake up his backfield quartet for tonight's game with Fritz Ruhl or Lawrence Daley filling in for Stu Young. No changes were planned in the line.

Tonight's game is more or less a coaches' battle.

All three coaches, Harding Vic Dorris and Joe Petrich and Bucyrus' Rex Wasylik, have at one time or another pro ed paths. Dorris and Wasylik played together for three years at Ohio State university under ex-Buckeye Coach Francis Schmidt. Before coming to Marion as coach at Edison Junior High school, Assistant Coach Petrich coached for Barnesville in southeastern Ohio. At the same time Wasylik was coach at nearby St. Clairsville. One of Wasylik's best teams surprised that section of the state by upsetting Barnesville, Petrich's team.

For the latter reason and because of the keen rivalry between Dorris and Wasylik, the Harding coaches will shoot the works in an effort to victimize the Wasylik-coached Bucyrusans.

Fail To Win

To date the Crawford county team has failed to score a single victory, losing to Upper Sandusky by 6-0, Ashland by 20-0, Shelby by 20-13 and Galion by 7-0. The Redmen tied Tiffin Columbian 0-0 and Crestline 6-6.

However, Coach Vic Dorris has warned his charges not to base too much on the unimpressive Bucyrus record, citing the 1940 game between the two teams which ended in a 16-6 upset victory in favor of the Redmen. This was the last N.C.O. defeat dealt the Hardings.

In practice sessions this week, Coach Wasylik has prepped his varsity charges in new trick plays employing spread formations, a number of pass plays and all types of gridiron trickery. "We try to confuse the enemy," Coach Wasylik told a reporter recently.

Probable starting line-ups are:

Harding	Pos.	Bucyrus
Williams	LE	Sipes
Kay	LT	Gabriel
Dixon	LG	Rittenour
Hurst	C	Teynor
Boyd	RG	Tells
Fazio	RT	Gatchell
Benedict	RE	Blackburn
Scott	QB	Landis
Jenkins	LH	Clayton
Ruhl	RH	Smith
Harvey	FB	Chandler

In the 22 previous engagements between Marion Harding and Bucyrus, the Presidents have won 13 games, while Bucyrus has won only nine. Here's the year-by-year record:

1920—Marion 7, Bucyrus 6.

GOPHER'S 1942 GREAT

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—Having tried to apply common sense to football predictions for several weeks, and having fallen somewhat short of perfection, this dept. is inaugurating a new system this week:

Duquesne vs. St. Vincent (Friday)—one of Duquesne's halfbacks is Goode. So is Duquesne—too good for St. Vincent.

Colgate vs. Holy Cross—We're always mistaking Colgate's Al Hanover for a trotting horse because of his name, but we understand he's a runner. Maybe Al will pace the Red Raiders to victory.

Oklahoma vs. Iowa State—Word from the southeast is that the Sooners' prospects depend on whether Hamm is hot, Vetean sandwich eaters tell us cold Hamm is just as good. Anyway, we'll string along with Oklahoma whether Hamm is hot or roasted.

Pennsylvania vs. Army—The Penn is mightier than the sword.

Today's Guest Star — William McG. Keefe, New Orleans Times-Picayune: "Chancellor O. C. Carmichael of Vanderbilt said that the students attending the university without a serious purpose should enlist in the armed forces before sundown. He probably was referring to those students who make up the football squad, because we notice his suggestion came right on the heels of that 33 to 0 pasting Mississippi State dished out."

• • •

Service Dept.—Being in the army hasn't meant much of a change for Pvt. Al Buck, former New York Post sportswriter. At Fort Dix, N. J., he is writing sports for the camp newspaper—the Post Buzz Borries, Navy's all-America back in 1934, already has six Jap planes to his credit. He was on both the Yorktown and the Lexington but managed to find safe landing places when his ships went down.

Battle Royal To Feature Tonight's Wrestling Program

A battle royal program, the first to be offered to Marion wrestling fans so far this fall, is on tap tonight at 8:30 in the Armory arena on West Church street.

Contestants in the free-for-all battle are Larry Kasaboski of Toronto, Canada, Steve Nenoff of Bulgaria, Soldier Thomas of Portland, Ore., Jack Hebbs of Lees-ville, Ind., Sailor Olsen of Sweden and Wild Bill Zunovich of Nicaragua. Every member of the sextet has appeared here frequently in the last year and most of them have been matched in main-go bouts.

In a battle royal match, all six fighters are in the ring at the start of the fight. The first two to be eliminated are through for the evening and go to the showers. The next two to leave return to tangle in a one-hour semi-final match while the finalists are pitted in the two-hour main-go bout. Winner of this match is winner of the entire card.

Promoter Les Fishbaugh has arranged to have Gil Lautzenhauser of Lima on hand to officiate tonight's card. Lautzenhauser gained considerable attention here recently in taking over the officiating duties and at once proving master of almost any situation, either inside the ring or from the audience.

Minnesota-Northwestern Battle To Be Hard Fought

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 29—Although Northwestern is a fourth loser this year, Minnesota can expect a real battle from Lynn Waldorf's eleven when the teams clash here Saturday, if the records mean anything.

Since Waldorf took over at Evanston in 1935, the Wildcats have defeated Minnesota three times, with the first victory, in 1936, ending the Gophers' string of 21 straight wins and 28 without a defeat.

Those three wins give Northwestern the best record of any of Minnesota's opponents in the last seven years. The Gophers won the other four, but the advantage might easily have been reversed since the last two Minnesota victories were one-pointers. In the seven contests, Minnesota scored 59 points and the Wildcats 58.

Minnesota will be seeking its second Western conference victory in three starts, while Northwestern has lost three straight in the league.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL SETTING RECORDS IN GROUND GAINING

Missouri, Georgia Set Lively Pace; Ohio State's Showing Good.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 29—Collegiate football is streaking to new offensive heights this year on the backs of Missouri and Georgia.

Missouri, paced by Bob Steuber, the nation's leading scorer, has averaged 434 yards a game for six contests. Georgia, led by Frankie Sinkwich of Youngstown, O., has rolled along at a 431 clip in the same number of encounters.

The American football statistical bureau, in releasing today's figures, said that it believed it had some imposing figures three years ago when Cornell, in six games averaged 409 yards before bumping in Dartmouth and Pennsylvania.

But today Missouri and Georgia not only are far ahead of that pace, but are being pushed by two other elevens. In five games, Tulsa had a 419 total offensive average and Ohio State, 411.

Missouri and Ohio State, incidentally, are the two top running teams of the nation, Missouri having gained 2,023 of its 2,605 total yardage by rushing and Ohio State 1,615 of its 2,070.

Georgia, 13th in rushing, is making up its difference in passing where it continues to run third behind Columbia and Tulsa. Columbia has averaged 212 yards a game, Tulsa 209, and Georgia 181, with Maryland right behind at 182.

All around honors, however, go to little Tulsa, undefeated in five games. In addition to being third in total offense and second in passing, the Golden Hurricanes are first in total defense (allowing opponents an average of 84 yards a game), first in pass defense (permitting 25 yards a game), third in punting and 11th in rushing.

Figures on the first seven total offense leaders: Missouri, six games, 2623 yards by rushing, 582 by passing, 2605 total; Georgia 6-1180-1107—2587; Tulsa 5-1019-1016—2097; Ohio State 5-1046-424—2070; Texas 6-1739-590—2329; Vanderbilt 5-1347-559—1906; Boston college 4-1021-379—1400.

GOPHERS RETAIN DROPKICK VICTORY

Michigan Protests in Vain Against 16-14 Score.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 29—Now that most everyone, including Referee James Masker and Commissioner John L. Griffith, has had a say in the controversial drop kick episode that ultimately brought Minnesota a 16-14 win over Michigan Saturday, the case was closed today—and Michigan still was without a victory over the Gophers in 10 years.

Masker last night admitted a lapse in not calling a five yard penalty on Minnesota for too many times out in the last nine seconds of the first half, when the disputed play occurred, but he did not concede that the failure altered the game's outcome.

Griffith, Western Conference commissioner, in a statement said that "college games are never played over and scores are not reversed, no matter what may have happened, once the game is ended."

In his statement, however, he concluded after hearing reports and studying movies of the game that omission of the penalty (for taking time out to substitute after Minnesota already had exhausted its legal limit of three) was the only deflection in the sequence of happenings.

Michigan officials contended that had the penalty been assessed with the clock ticking off the final seconds, Bill Garnaas would not have had time to kick the goal.

N. B. A. To "Freeze" Fight Titles for the Duration

Movement Afoot To Safeguard Championships of Top-Ranking Fighters Now in Service.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Private Billy Conn and Bob Pastor are the "logical contenders" for Sergt. Joe Louis' heavyweight championship crown, the National Boxing Association reported today in announcing that top-ranking fighters now in the armed services shortly would be placed in a special "honorary class."

Ace J. Greene, N.B.A. president, said that in December the association would announce plans for listing "duration champions and contenders."

These ratings, Greene declared, will be based on a policy of "freezing" for the duration the titles of men in the service. He added that such a system would prevent "injustice" to champions now in uniform and would prevent appropriation of boxing crowns by self-declared champions or by dictum of any individual athletic commission.

Conn Second Again

In again listing Conn at the No. 2 heavyweight, the N.B.A. made no reference to the scheduled Louis-Conn scrap of three weeks ago, which Secretary of War Stimson cancelled.

The N.B.A. ranked Pastor as the leading "out-of-the-service" heavyweight, ignoring both his recent defeat at the hands of Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland and Bob's announcement three days ago that he was retiring from the ring and planned to enter some branch of the armed forces.

The N.B.A. explained that Bivins' win over Pastor was registered after the Oct. 19 deadline for contests to figure in the rankings. Bivins was listed as the No. 2 light heavyweight.

Melio Bettina was placed at the top of a group of five "outstanding boxers" in the heavyweight class, but the N.B.A. noted that his army service probably would prevent any ring activity on his part "which leaves competition principally in the hands of Lee Savold and Tami Mauriello," who are booked to meet tomorrow night.

Manuel Ortiz, whose victory over Lou Salica has been recognized by the N.B.A., was ranked the No. 1 bantamweight for the only change in title classification in the new ratings.

Henry Armstrong, the old "perpetual motion" specialist, came back to gain the fourth slot among the N.B.A.-ranked welterweights, coming behind Freddie Cochrane, Ray Robinson and Fritzie Zivic. Armstrong whipped Zivic in San Francisco last night in the most significant step of an amazing comeback campaign.

The ratings:

TIGERS

the Galion thrusts and was a big factor in the offensive play. In addition to captaining the Tigers, Keller also called signals last night.

Linemen Star

Martin Lewis, voted the No. 1 lineman in the North Central Ohio league as a Harding gridder last year, was nearly as efficient as Keller. The former 150-pound Harding guard crashed through the Galion line after four minutes of the second quarter to block a Galion punt which was recovered in the end zone by Galion's Al Schwaner for a safety in favor of the Tigers.

Performing almost as brilliantly in the line were Frankie Cafagno at end, Gerald Hirneise and Carl Werley at the tackles. All three are former St. Mary stars.

Outstanding in the Tiger backfield were Howard Hodges and Nick Cafagno. A check of the statistics gives Hodges a slight edge for total net gain, but Cafagno was at all times a serious threat. After intercepting a Galion pass late in the game, Cafagno shook loose three potential tacklers and scooted 37 yards down the east side of the stadium field to score the Tigers' lone touchdown. Harry Mauk's conversion for the extra point was good.

Other backfield standouts were Johnny Edington for his exceptional punting and Don Cook for fine passing.

In the Galion line-up last night were a number of former Galion, Mansfield and Crestline High school gridders. Foremost among the group was Phil Ganni, a 1938 Class B All-Ohio selection. While Ganni failed to show the form which gained for him statewide recognition as a scholastic star, Howard DeWalt, an unheralded Galion High school player, grabbed whatever glory the Gallions reaped. He sparked the Gallions to a 55-yard march which was stopped by a Marion pass interception a few seconds ahead of the final gun.

Schedule Announced

George Baum, manager of the Tigers, announced after last night's game a four-game November program. Next Wednesday the Tigers play host to the Lorain All-Stars in a game booked for Harding stadium. On Nov. 11 the Victory Merchants of Columbus will come here and on Nov. 18 a return game is booked with the Columbus Denton Service team. On the following Thursday, Nov. 25, a tentative game has been arranged with the Jaycees. Baum said all four games would probably be played in Marion.

Last night's game, played under almost ideal weather conditions, was witnessed by nearly 400 fans.

Summary follows:

ECONOMY IS NOW THE FASHION!

"I can't afford it" is getting to be a common phrase on people's lips. This applies to items which were formerly classed as necessities or even luxuries. However, it does not apply to home buying. We must continue to have shelter and in most cases your rent will take care of the monthly payments. If you are not now prepared, a short, intensive savings campaign will soon produce the down payment. Start now, don't delay!

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Saccharin Harmless

A FEW weeks ago I stated that the use of saccharin as a substitute for sugar was harmless, even if taken over a long period of time. Since then my mail has been full of inquiries and comments. A typical one comes from "Interested Reader," who encloses a clipping from Emily Post's column as follows:

"Dear Mrs. Post: As a physician I was much shocked to read your advice that one should learn to like saccharin as a substitute for sugar. Taken in quantity without the supervision of a physician, it can have a very harmful effect.

"Answer: I had not intended to suggest that people take it in quantity, but merely when going to drink tea or coffee in the houses of others, to avoid depleting their supply."

The shocked physician had better look the matter up and get some accurate information so he will get unshocked. At any rate, he had better quit writing to the newspapers while he is in a condition of complete ignorance. Mrs. Post was right the first time.

Several years ago I looked it up and found that an English commission of doctors had studied the question at length and came to the conclusion that there was no evidence that saccharin ever did harm, even when taken daily and even in quite large quantities. They interviewed hundreds of saccharin users in all climates. Experiments on newborn laboratory mice, giving them a twentieth of their body weight in saccharin for twenty consecutive days, did not interfere with their health, growth or long life.

As recently as August 22, 1942, Dr. Walter Bastedo, one of the most respected physicians in New York, wrote to a medical journal:

"Many physicians are not fully aware of the non-toxic nature of saccharin and are fearful about permitting its indiscriminate use.

"In 1916 I was chairman of a saccharin committee (New York Board of Health) composed of noted chemists such as H. C. Sherman and W. J. Gies. We made an extensive study and came to the conclusion that saccharin is nontoxic, either acute or chronic, for human beings, in any amounts that could ordinarily be consumed. We found an extensive use of saccharin in canned goods, chewing gum, soda water flavors, ginger ale and so on."

The present interest in saccharin arises from its use as a substitute for sugar. In this connection one of my correspondents writes: "You mention saccharin as a sweetener, but fail to warn that it loses its sweetening power when heated. All right in cold foods, but disappointing in coffee."

This is correct. Saccharin is of no use in cooking. The heat of an ordinary cup of coffee, however, in my experience does not affect it.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"THE WAITER is one of Milner's most trusted men," Adams said. "So am I," he added with a wry smile, "but that Milner guy never lets anyone suspect what he gets away with. He never sends a tray to the kitchen without rinsing out the coffee or teapot, and not a bit if anything is spilled on a tray. They call him fussy—and worse—in the kitchen. But they would think nothing of that particular tray going down with empty pots and cups. So-I guess he's been just fussy instead of fussy."

My father drew a long breath and said:

"Well! We can't pin anything on him, but we can put on an act that may give him a qualm or two. But first, why did he want the young Veritzen's out?"

"Ever since you've been here," Adams replied, "Milner's been trying to get a dictaphone put into this suite, but it's never left alone. Tonight I guess he figured was a good time to get the work done. But he told me to keep watch, and if you came back I was to warn the workers. I signaled them as soon as you rapped, and they left."

"You certainly did exactly the right thing," my father said warmly. "Now for our act. Remember, Adams, you didn't tell me a thing about conditions in here. We found them out ourselves."

"I understand, sir."

Then my father's glance swept the room, and I knew he was arranging his strategy.

"Margaret," he said, "take your place by Mary and try to rouse her. It might be well for you to weep a little. You must seem distraught about her when Dr. Twitchell comes in. Richard, you will be sitting by Noel's side, trying to rouse him. And Adams, you would better go back to the other suite. I'll tell Milner I sent you."

Adams hurried out and I sat down by Mary's side. I would need no histrionism to seem worried over her.

Dicky and my father went into the other room and I heard my father telephone, asking for Suite 1522, then break into apparently excited speech.

"Mr. Milner? Is Dr. Twitchell still there? Just going? Please put him on the telephone at once, and I shall want to talk to you later. Something has happened down here. No, no, I can't explain now. Put Dr. Twitchell on."

After an instant's pause I heard:

"Dr. Twitchell? Please come down to my daughter's suite immediately. I cannot explain now, but we have urgent need of you. Tell Mr. Milner to wait only long enough to get someone to sit with Redfield, then I want him to come down here also.

"No, I do not wish to talk to him now. Just deliver my message. Can you come down at once?"

After an instant's silence, I heard him say, as if to himself, "It will waken them all, but I'll have to do it."

He then turned to the telephone and called Philip Veritzen's suite.

"Mr. Veritzen?" he said after a pause. "This is Charles Spencer. Terribly sorry to disturb you, but it is vital that you come down to my daughter's suite at once. No, nobody hurt.

"Yes, Noel and Mary are here, but I can't have them talk now. There isn't time. Don't alarm your wife or daughter, but get here as soon as you can."

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Oct. 30

CONFLICTING testimonies are found in this day's astral forecast, with many prospects of progress and achievement but not without difficulties of a swift and sudden advent calling for sound judgment, tact and common sense to vanquish. Writings, documents, contracts, any sort of papers or correspondence as well as oral agreements may be at the root of trouble, with trickery, deception or irregularity involved. With caution, vigilance and sagacity this may be averted and some very definite gains secured.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in a year in which a tricky and treacherous chain of circumstances may demand an unusual degree of vigilance, cleverness, sagacity and good common sense if snares, pitfalls and loss are to be avoided. Writings, correspondence, documents as well as oral contracts are at the source of this danger, with fraud, loss, misrepresentation and wordy wars to be nipped in the bud. With all this, there is promise of expansion, success and growth, on fairly sound and enduring foundation for the future. Cultivate those in power for friendship and assistance.

A child born on this day should have a keen and able mind, with some worthy ambitions, but a tendency to expediency rather than principle may lead on to reversals and discredit in life.
